Mr. Chas. Wilkins, fishery inspector for this district, is still ill and shows no signs of recovery.

There will be no issue of the Twice News this week, as the staff are enjoying their annual vacation.

The Perth Expositor congratulates the county of Hastings on the management of its roads and bridges.

Mr. Desjardins, the Conservative candidate, was elected in Montserrat, Quebec, by a majority of 31.

It is said that much of the apple crop of the district is ruined by a blight which has fallen upon it during the past few weeks.

The boardwalk on the north side of Main street east of THE TRIBUNE office is beginning to collapse and assume a coudery appearance.

The residence of Thomas Chambers, North Frederick street, was destroyed by fire on the 21st of July. But little of the household stuff was saved.

An Italian organ grinder with a monkey accompaniment did the town on Tuesday and was followed by an admiring crowd of boys and girls.

The interest in professional baseball is everywhere on the wane, and cricket, lacrosse and other games are coming into popular favour.

Mr. J. H. Booth has been busy on the stone foundation of Mr. E. A. Rixen's new house on Thomas street west. The new edifice will be 40x21 ft.

Rural Dean Stanton spent last Lord's Day in Adolphustown, where he preached three times on that day with much acceptance to large congregations.

Mr. Pugsley, partner of Mr. Dingman, the present proprietor of Davay's Island, has purchased a lot and will build a neat cottage at that well known resort.

On Monday evening a row occurred among a crowd assembled in front of Squire's store. A man who attempted to part two of the combatants was pounded for his pains.

The Prince of Wales has decided that in matter of precedence the name of Cardinal Manning should rank immediately after his own. Many are offended at this decision.

The petition against the return of Mr. Sprague of Prince Edward county to the legislative assembly has been thrown through because the required deposit had not been paid into court.

A heavy thunder storm was observed on the morning of Friday, August 1st. We learn that there was a very heavy fall of rain and some damage done to telegraph poles, etc., in many sections.

Wm. Brett, an aged man, and deaf, was struck by an engine of the Grand Junction Railway at Faulkner's gravel pit near Foxboro and instantly killed. He had been a resident of Thurston for many years.

The war against the Central American states still continues and there has been some fighting between the troops of Salvador and Guatemala. There is also much talk of a general strike of telegraphists in the U.S.A.

Mr. Robert Geddis was over in Hillier a few days this week attending the funeral of his nephew, Mr. Wm. Alexander, who died from the effects of the grippe. Deceased was 25 years of age and leaves a wife and child.

The yacht "Cosette" of Belleville arrived in port on Friday afternoon with a number of visitors who spent some hours in town. Among others we noticed Mr. H. Corby, M. P., Rev. Dr. George and wife, Mr. W. B. Northrup, etc.

Mr. T. H. Namith and family have gone into camp for the season at "The Poplars" a very pretty and pleasant spot in the vicinity of Huffy's Dock. This resort is easy of access from Deseronto and the visitor is ever sure of a hearty and hospitable welcome.

A series of lectures on the Science of Education will be given in Deseronto from August 1st to the end of the first week in October. These lectures are for the benefit of the teachers of the province and cannot but prove a great benefit to the cause of education generally.

The city of St. John's, Newfoundland, snubbed Prince George and the British Admiral, because of the inaction of the Imperial government on the French shore questions. The people of Halifax object to the proposed settlement of the 17th Regiment in garrison at that city. Whither are they drifting?

Mr. J. A. Craig, of Bonndbrook, New Jersey, spent a few days in Deseronto during the past week visiting his brother Rev. E. J. Craig, M. A., at the manse. He has a large and lucrative practice as a dentist at Bonndbrook which is very busy during the summer months.

His numerous friends in Deseronto were glad to see him looking so hale and hearty.

The corner stone of the new Imperial Roman Catholic chapel, Kingston, was laid with appropriate ceremonies by Archbishop Chapin on Friday, July 25th. The chapel will be erected by contributions from the dioceses of Kingston and Alexandria. There was a large attendance of clergymen on the occasion, among others present being Revs. Mr. Mackay, Mr. Macdonald, Mr. Hogan, Napanee, and T. McCarthy, Read.

We have been favoured with a copy of the Year Book, 1890, of the American Canoe Association, containing the official camp and regatta programme of the North-east Division which is now holding its annual Meet at Lake of Two Mountains, P. Q. There are sixteen clubs in this division, including Deseronto, No. 51; Captain F. S. Rathburn; Mate, Tros. Roach, Jr.; Purser, T. H. Namith. The year book is well illustrated.

The Belleville newspapers state that W. H. Wrightmeyer, of Deseronto, was before the police magistrate at Belleville last Saturday morning, charged with indecently assaulting Mrs. Lindley in March last in Belleville. Mrs. John Norton in the same city in June, and Mrs. Carrie Norton in Deseronto on Thursday, July 24th. He was found guilty on each charge and fined $10 and costs or $10.20 in all which he paid on the spot.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company has not manoeuvred the Grand Trunk, not only by bringing pressure on the Dominion government but also by recently purchasing the New Brunswick Railway system. This new company will have the Grand Trunk from making use of existing lines to make its contemplated connections with Halifax and St. John.

Messrs. R. H. Baker and Thomas Gault went over to Northport the other day to look for a cow. Mr. Baker succeeded in finding the cow but then became aware that his friend Gault was lost. After a long search Mr. Baker found him in the vicinity of Northport to which place he had been attracted by certain powerful magnetic influences. In the interests of the young ladies of Deseronto THE TRIBUNE intends to keep a close eye in future on the meanderings of our good friend Thomas.

Mrs. F. H. Sims and her Sunday school pupils recently enjoyed a pleasant picnic excursion.

It is said that Mr. Ballantyne, of Perth, will be speaker of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario.

Several drove down to Napanee on Tuesday evening to enjoy Robbins' Circus. Not one got the worth of his money.

Mr. A. C. Crosby, B.A., Head Master of Dutton High school, has been appointed Professor of Mathematics in Albert College.

Parties of happy excursionists from all parts of the district daily arrive in town and parade the streets or visit the different works.

Any person wanting a good supply of fuel can obtain same free of charge by looking beneath the platform at the market and the park fence.

Archbishop Cleary is negotiating for a loan of $200,000 from a Rome company for the improvement of church property throughout the diocese of Kingston.

The town council of Gananoque has wisely passed a fire limit by-law. It is not time that the Deseronto council did the same thing before the prevailing conflagration makes it a necessity?

Mr. George Huff has moved into the house he recently purchased from the Rathburn Company on Mill street, occupied by Mr. Campbell. Mr. Campbell has removed to Mr. Warton's house on Dundas street west.

A number of young men in town are in the habit of running up bills with taverns, tailors, and other business men, and then refusing to pay until forced by the Division Court. A list of their names may be found some of these mornings posted up in the post office.

The following from an exchange may prove of interest to campers or those who rusticate in the woods: "Never touch a vine which has three-fingered leaves, that is leaves divided in three parts. Vines which show five-fingered leaves may be handled with safety. Poison ivy has three."

Business men and others complain of the crowds who assemble on Main street between Cole's cigar store and the bank. Too frequently the language used is unpleasant to ladies who reside in the neighborhood and the pools of tobacco spit left on the boardwalk are intolerable to pedestrians. The chief will, no doubt, apply the usual remedy.

On Saturday while Mr. Stewart O'Shea, employed in the Rathburn mill, at Campbellford, was standing in front of the saw, he was struck by a log which fell from the saw, flew out, striking him on the back of the head, and causing a large piece out of the back of his head. It is a painful wound and he may lose the power of his hand.

The revolution which occurred in Buenos Ayres is said to have had its origin in the dissatisfaction caused by the city not receiving its share of government appointments and similar favours. Has not Deseronto very good reason for similar action? Deseronto has always fared badly from governments both of Reform and Conservative. As a community we rate nil in the political world.

Much of the expenditure on boardwalks in Deseronto could be curtailed were the streets kept below the level of the boardwalks. At present many are too high and air is kept getting under the boards and this speeds up decay of them. In the interests of economy it would be well to empower Commissioner Marrison to prevent any future infringement in this respect.

A bloody revolution occurred in Buenos Ayres, Argentina, some years ago, and the result of the financial crisis produced by the revolution. The insurgents had overthrown the government and for several days his people at Grotto, Fredericksburg, and after stubborn fighting, in which thousands were killed and wounded, gained the ascendancy. The committee—J. A. Mackenzie, Brookville, J. Maclean, Pictou, W. P. McEwan, Almonte, A. Gravelle, Renfrew, B. Lane, Winchester.

Mr. Byard Young, the popular traveller for the Deseronto Flour Mill, has severed his connection with that institution, having accepted a position as agent in the eastern provinces for the Carberry Milling Company, of Carberry, Manitoba. Mr. Young has been for nine years connected with the Rathburn Company and has been very successful. He constantly enjoyed and it is needless to say the present parting is mutually regretted. Mr. Young will spend a few days with his family at Grotto, Fredericksburg, and will enter upon his new duties on August 12th. While making his headquarters at Grotto, he will be very happy to find opportunity to visit friends in Deseronto. THE TRIBUNE wishes him all success.

The Statistical Year Book.

Our thanks are due to Hon. John Carling, for a copy of the Statistical Year-Book of Canada for 1889, published by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. It bristles with valuable information concerning the country, its resources, its statistics, and is of great interest to all who are interested in the progress of the Dominion.

Annual Prohibition Camp.

The Annual Prohibition Camp of the Royal Templars of Temperance will be held at Montreal for August 14 to 21st. The greatest speakers and the most noted men and women of the temperance reform on this continent will be upon the platform. There will be a large attendance of delegates from the various divisions of the order. The XIII Battalion Band of Hamilton. Two public meetings every day. Plenty of accommodation at low rates. Cheap excursion rates for all. Tickets of all denominations are contemplating attending this demonstration and Deseronto Council will probably be represented. For information and application to the camp are on sale at THE TRIBUNE office.

Port of Deseronto.

During the year ending June 30th, 1890, there cleared from the port of Deseronto 319 vessels, of which 219 were steamers, the number of arrivals being 303, representing a tonnage of 74,894, and crews of 2,186 men. There were also 303 reports of cargo outward to the United States and 158 inward from that country. Of coasting and other tonnage cleared 124,085 tonnage and 4,732 men. There were also 303 reports of cargo outward to the United States and 158 inward from that country. Of coasting and other tonnage cleared 124,085 tonnage and 4,732 men. Excursion to Rochester.

Rev. D. O. Crosby, of Newburgh, has arranged for a cheap trip to Rochester, N. Y., on Wednesday, August 6th. The stmr. Norseman, Capt. C. H. Nicholson, will leave Deseronto at 10 a.m. Tickets will be sold at 50 cts. a ticket. Steamer leaves Belleville at 4 a.m.; Trenton 5, Brighton 7:15, Colborne 7:45 and Colborne 9:15. This trip will give passengers five hours in Rochester, return same day, and price of starting; or it will give one, two or three days in Rochester, and return across lake on regular trip to Montreal. Tickets only $2.00 from Belleville and Trenton, $1.50 from Brighton, etc. Good for four days. For information, write, Rev. D. O. Crosby, Newburgh.

The Deane's Ramble.

Mr. Wm. Deane and his party, including Miss Baird, Miss Davis, Misses Jessie and Mary Rathburn, and Master Harry Rathburn returned home on Saturday on the stmr. Alexandria from their three weeks' trip down the St. Lawrence. All the tourists had been thoroughly tanned by the sun and sea air and showed the effects of the good appetites gained by their splendid trip. They were all in ecstasies over the success and enjoyment of their ramble, and testified to Mr. Deane's capabilities as a cicero and genial companion. The party visited every object of interest which was worth seeing. Mr. & Mrs. E. G. Scott and family, of Quebec, extended great kindness and hospitality to the party during their sojourn in Quebec, the Atlantic capital.

Midland Central Fair.

We have received from Mr. R. Meek, the Secretary, a copy of the prize list of the Midland Central Fair, which will be held at Kingston from Sept. 1st to Sept. 10th inclusive. The directors of the Midland Agricultural Association have devised liberal inducements and arranged many attractions in order to make the fair a success. In addition to other features a bench dog show will be given on the 1st of September. The Club will be held in connection with the fair on Sept. 2nd, 3rd and 4th and $700 in prizes will be offered in this department. It is supported by the business men of Kingston and other cities of that city the Midland Fair will prove one of the best which will be held in the province this year. We congratulate the Association on having such an energetic and capable secretary as Mr. Meek.

NOTICE.

VOTERS' LIST, 1890—MUNICIPALITY OF THE TOWN OF DESERONTO IN THE COUNTY OF HASTING. NOTICE is hereby given, that I have transmitted or delivered to the persons mentioned in sections 5 and 6 of "The Ontario Voters' List Act, 1889," the copies required by said sections to be transmitted or delivered of the list made pursuant to said Act, of all persons appearing by the last revised Assessment for the said Municipality to be entitled to vote in the said Municipality at elections for members of the Legislative Assembly and at Municipal Elections; and that the said list was first posted up at my office at Deseronto on the 20th day of July, 1890, and remains there for inspection. Electors are called upon to examine the said list, and if any omissions or any other errors are found therein to take immediate proceedings to have the said errors corrected according to law.
ROBERT N. IRVINE, Town Clerk, Deseronto.
Dated this 30th day of July, 1890.

TO-DAY, FRIDAY, THE FIRST OF AUGUST, P. SLAVEN & CO.

Will commence one of their old time clearing sales, when all the goods in the store will be marked right down in red ink to prices so low as to paralyze all previous records. We will offer the goods at prices that will knock all other sales cold and stiff, and don't you forget it. We will offer inducements that will bring the farmers in from their harvests; the builders will come down from the housetop; and mothers that are nursing their babies will hurry to the store to secure a share of the great bargains that we always offer on these occasions.

This language may seem like bunscombe to some; but we can assure you that we mean business. We are overloaded with goods and have a great many notes to meet in August, so we have determined to turn the goods into money if low prices will do it.

We could astonish you, reader, by publishing a list of the prices that we will offer, but the trouble would be that before you would get here some of those cheap lines would be sold out, and, unless you are more charitable than some people, you would say that we never had them; that we are only humbugs. We say, therefore, come to the store as soon as you can and see the goods, take them in your hand and examine them.

Our goods are always marked in plain figures—look at the price and we have no fear of the result. This sale is not advertised for the purpose of running off a few lines of summer goods only. The reduction will be general throughout the store. Stacks of goods will be sold at a discount of 25 per cent. Other piles will be sold at a discount of 33½ per cent., and a few goods will be sold at a discount of 50 per cent., while staple, ready-money goods, as we call them, will be sold at a discount of from 5 to 12½ per cent. But nothing will escape the slaughter!

The Terms, of course, will be STRICTLY CASH. We will send samples of goods to ladies living out of town, and any goods they order can be sent by mail at the rate of one cent per ounce to any place in Canada. The store will be kept open on Saturday and Wednesday evenings until 9 o'clock for the accommodation of our customers in the country.

A Dog With Modern Improvements.

A pair of well-to-do people who have been living at a hotel here since last autumn are planning to build for themselves a new home at their place in the country, says the Boston Traveller. They are extremely interested in their plans, which are hospitable as well as architectural. It is their intention to keep their house half filled with guests during the summer months that they live in their house—when they get their house. They are deaf to usual predictions in regard to servants' dislike for an overcrowding house of guests, and both are firm in praise of the lovely knoll which they have chosen as a house site.

"But you ought to have a dog," said one of Mrs. X's friends, "if you are going to live in the country you will need a dog, and a big one."

"I mean to have a big dog," was Mrs. X's calm reply.

"But you know perfectly well that you are afraid of dogs, and would be scared by one more than any possible tramp or burglar would."

"That's true," calmly replied Mrs. X, "but my dog is to be a big, brazen one. I'm going to have it made, and it is to have a photograph in its diaphragm, and I'm going to borrow one of the neighbor's dogs to howl into the photograph, and so I'll have it to howl nights, you see. Of course there'll be wires and an electric button to connect it with my room so I can regulate it."

Called Her Bluff.

Chippie little Della Fox, the soubrette of the Hopper Opera company, prides herself, says the New York Star, on the fact that she never allows anything, no matter how embarrassing, to disconcert her. A few afternoon ago, however, the cool little lady had an experience in which, as she expresses it, "her bluff was called and she had to admit defeat." She was walking on Broadway with a friend when they came to pass a young man who carried a light overcoat or his arm. Miss Fox carried an umbrella in her hand, and as she passed the young man she accidentally caught his overcoat with the handle of her umbrella. She turned round at once, and looking the young man in the face, said, holding out the umbrella, "You may have it if you want it." The young man was staggered for an instant, but he quickly controlled himself, and reaching out his hand said, "Thank you," with a polite bow, as he took the proffered umbrella and walked away with it. The next day a messenger-boy brought the umbrella, which, as she expressed it, "she said," "I always call a bluff, no matter how small a hand I hold." The note was unsigned, and Miss Fox does not yet know whom the young man was.

The Cook Withdrew.

A lady living in a fashionable neighborhood in the northern part of the city secured a new cook the other day, says the Detroit Free Press, but the girl had not been in the house an hour when she asked for an interview, and said:

"Madame, I think it best for me to withdraw and let you fill my place."

"Why? Is anything wrong?"

"Yes—your husband."

"But what of him?"

"It would be very embarrassing for me to continue to meet him."

A POWERFUL PAPER BY COUNT LEON TOLSTOI.

I have received, and still continue to receive, numbers of letters from persons who are perfect strangers to me asking me to state in plain and simple language my own views on the subject handled in the story entitled "The Kreutzer Sonata." With this request I shall now endeavor to comply.

ness is pardoned principally because of supposed physical necessities. Both parents and the Government, in consequence of this view, may be said to wink at profligacy and, even in the last resort, to encourage its practice. I am of opinion that this is not right.

It follows from this that it is the duty of unmarried men who do not wish to live a life of infamy to practice such continence in respect to all woman as they would were the male society in which they move made up in the second place, I think that of late years, through various reasons into which need not enter, but amongst which the above-mentioned laxity of opinion in society and the frequent idealization of the subject of current literature and painting may be mentioned, conjugal infidelity has become common, and is considered less reprehensible. I am of opinion that this is not in the third place, I am of opinion that neither consequences of the false light in which we are placed, nor what it leads to, are good for our society is that the birth of children has lost its pristine significance, and that modern marriages are conceived less and less from the point of view of the family. I am of opinion that this is not right. These doctrines and the practices which result from them wreck not only the bodily health of the race, but also the moral and vigor of women, and for this reason they should be avoided. The remedy is to be found in that self-restraint which, rightly considered, is an essential element of man's virtue and which is incumbent upon him even before marriage. This is my third

 a thing, is a music, dance, hidden footstep, the signals of our modern life, in a world
 on the pictures on the little boxes of sweetests up to the novels, the tale and the poem attribute to fan this sensuality into a strong warming flame, with the result that sexual passion is the dominant note of the modern indications of the period of tender youth and ten continue into the ripe age of full-blown amehood. And I am of the opinion that this is right.

At night time it ceased. The children of the night should not be brought up as if they were animals, and we should set up as subjects, and strive to obtain as the result of our labors something better and nobler than the ill-dressed body. This is my four-natural law.

In the fifth place, I am of opinion that, owing to the exaggerated and erroneous significance attributed by our society to love and to the idealized states that accompany and succeed in the best instances of our men and women are drawn forth and extended during the most promising period of life; those of the men in the work of looking for, choosing and winning the most desirable objects of love, for which purpose lying and fraud are added to be quite excusable; those of the women and girls in luring men and deceiving them into liaisons or marriages by the most questionable means conceivable as an instance of which the present fashions in evening dress

An Inheritance of Hatred Transmitted
From Sire to Son

Prof. Goldwin wrote of this Anglophobia in one of the late magazines, and several Americans comment upon his article in the succeeding number just out. They smooth over the Anglophobia by saying that it is dying out. It is not dying out very fast. Americans dislike the English, but they do not necessarily dislike Englishmen. People of the same blood, language, and literature rarely hate each other as individuals without the

Yet we do dislike England. Much of the dislike is an inheritance. Part of it comes from the instinct that the only country that can cause us fear is England. In the rivalry for commercial supremacy which all the peoples feel is coming we hardly consider France and Germany, great as their efforts are sometimes. We never think twice about dispute with any nation except England. We know that our country are fighters. We

A people's instincts are often in advance of formulated statement. We somehow feel that at the two English-speaking nations will be impelled to combine or to fight for supremacy as well to fight. We have no doubt that we will get better understanding between Americans and Englishmen. The understanding is better than in 1775 or 1840. We have always understood each other very well—especially have Americans understood the English. The antagonism has weakened very little, and to-day there is no nation that would do as well to fight, decidedly. That is because we understand England so well. To whip Germany, or France, or Russia would be nothing. To whip England would be to clear up some old scores and to establish ourselves at the head of the world. Yet the feeling is very close to an intimate friend.

A Remarkable Fish.
Africa is the home of many extraordinary animals, but there is no more remarkable creature than the mudfish, which inhabits certain of the rivers of Western Africa, and, in its name implies, it lurks at the muddy bottoms of these rivers. At present, however, it is not necessary to go to Africa to see this fish, as it can be seen by any one Another English Plague of Rats.

Considerable havoc has been caused among farmers' corn in West Suffolk by an extraordinary plague of rats. In one village, Lidge, on our stacks of wheat being thrashed out, over a thousand rats were killed, as well as a prodigious quantity of mice. The rats are in some cases as remarkable for their size as for the vastness of their numbers. An immense cream-colored rat had been stuffed, and is regarded as a great curiosity by naturalists and others. The damage done to wheat by these rapacious rodents is very serious.—London Daily News.

Here's a Sensible Suggestion for the Liter-

as for magazine writing. "The newspaper dies with the day, the magazine lives for a month," is the general feeling, and hence the impression that ephemeral work will find a ready market with the newspaper.

Where the newspaper offers to the young writer an advantage over the magazine is in its wider field and its larger capacity. Publishing thirty times against the single issue of a magazine, the newspaper naturally ab-

But bear in mind, this advantage is one of greater capacity, not of less requirement. Disappointment can be no more certain than when a manuscript is sent to a newspaper editor with the belief that he is less critical or that his constituency is less exacting than in the case of the monthly magazine.—Edward W. Bok.

To thoroughly appreciate this astonishing phenomenon, it should be remembered that the estimated average amount of water passing over these falls is 502,590 tons per minute.

The roaring, tumbling rapids above the falls were almost obliterated and nothing but

Country House Visiting for Pleasure—A Hint to Youthful Guests.

There are degrees in visiting, from very smart country house parties to parties not so smart, and parties that are not at all smart, in which the guests are additions to the family circle, if not acquisitions, and visits that asked for a long visit, and not for a three or four days, but for a ten days' one. Thus perhaps the pleasantest of any. "Dress" is not at all important, but in reality of very little importance; the ladies do not dress "at" each other. There is little time for donning tea gowns, and the dress put on in the morning is pretty enough and good enough to be worn until dinner, when it is exchanged for something equally simple which does not require much attention.

The Benefit of Lightning Rods.
In all cases of steady strain in which a charged cloud descending from the upper regions of the air, or approaching from a distance, might inflict serious injury upon an unprotected building, a well-designed and properly earth-connected lightning rod is an absolute safeguard. In a case of "impulsive rush," the rod may often be of use in bearing the instant of the discharge, though sometimes the lightning will take no notice whatever of it, striking the building and altogether neglect the rod; and it is even possible that a high rod might attract a destructive discharge which otherwise would not have occurred at all. Although, therefore, a lightning rod is in many cases, probably in a very large majority, of the greatest service, it cannot be depended upon as affording perfect immunity from risk; and the assumption which has universally been made by the "older electricians" that damage by lightning is in itself conclusive evidence of some imperfection in the conductor, is an unfounded one.—Professor Bidwell in Nature.

 Read this extract from the scientific papers of Great Britain and Europe :

The four greatest medical centres of the world are London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. These cities have immense hospitals teeming with suffering humanity. Crowds of students through the wards, studying under the Professors in charge. The most renowned physicians of the world teach and practice here, and the institutions are storehouses of medical knowledge and experience. With a view of making this experience available to the public the Hospital Remedy Co. of great expense secured the prescriptions of these hospitals, prepared the specifics, and although it would cost from $20 to $100 to secure the attention of their distinguished originators, yet in this way their prepared specifics are offered at the price of the cheap patent medicines that flood the market and absurdly claim to cure every ill from a single bottle.

Late crop reports from different parts of the province are not so encouraging as might be desired.

In the ranks of the Salvation Army leading in the Canadian army are 1,014 officers with 384 corps and outposts.

Miss Lena Walker contributed an excellent solo at the musical service in the Church of the Redeemer last Sabbath.

Mrs. Aubin and Miss Jennie Graham, of Stirling, arrived on Tuesday and are the guests of Mrs. Allan Hunt, Mill street.

The "Hero" carried a very large excursion party from the north end of the island to Kingston and the Thousand Islands on Wednesday. The trip was greatly enjoyed.

Messrs. Wm. Hindmarch, of Oswego, and W. C. B. Rathbun, of Bay View Ranch, enjoyed a fishing trip to Cross Lake, etc., in the back country and report great success.

The trip to the 1000 Islands, by Mr. Hero on Wednesday, August 6, will undoubtedly be one of the most attractive of the season.

Only 75 cents for the round trip, and the passage is said that an arrangement has been perfected by which Mr. Allan Gilmore, of Ottawa, will remove to Trenton and go into partnership with Mr. David Gilmore.

Mr. James Semmich has moved his shop and residence to his own property on Brant street where he will carry on a grocery business and where he hopes to receive a fair share of public patronage.

Mr. Wm. Patterson and his son John, of Chicago, spent a few days in town this week renewing old associations. During their stay they were the guests of Mr. D. G. Warrman.
Mr. Patterson prosper in his western home.

pleasant trip to the Sandbanks on Monday last.

Mr. J. F. Chapman, who is so soon to leave Deseronto, has always been a great favorite with the young people and in social circles in an excursion in his honor was made last Friday evening to Glenora.

The sail was enjoyed by the large company
present and a beautiful report down the bay.

How would you feel to work for several days in succession until sweating from every pore and then to be painting the inside of taking a bath or changing clothes? And yet that is just about the way a good many hours are treated, and their feelings must be something like ours would be under the circumstances. Add to the sweat a mixture of dust and it becomes much worse.

The Globe of Wednesday had an interesting article on the oldest citizen of Toronto.
His name is John M. Tinsley and he is 107
years of age, having been born in Richmond, Virginia, July 4th, in 1783. Mr. Tinsley, who is still vigorous, is partly of negro blood, his father having been an Irishman and his mother a mulatto. He remembers having seen Washington and several others of the revolutionary leaders.

The weather.

The weather still continues hot and dry and rain is greatly needed all over this district. There have been a few very light showers but their effects were not very appreciable. The following are the maximum readings of the thermometer during the past week: Friday 103°; Saturday 101°; Sunday
97°; Monday 93°; Tuesday 89°; Wednesday
84°; Thursday 81°; Friday 80°.

No canvassing will be allowed at the Roman Catholic bazaar this evening, so that young men can attend without being persecuted by fair young ladies as is too often the case. The drawing in the different departments will take place at 8 p. m. Refreshments, including cake and coffee, will be served on the grounds. The ladies will leave nothing undone to please their customers. Remember the place, east of the Smith Block, Main street.

Changes in the Staff.

Mr. J. F. Stokes, who has for so many years satisfactorily filled the position of paymaster for the Rathbun Company, has resigned with the intention of removing to Toronto. He is succeeded by Mr. Thomas
F. Culhane, of the Richmond office. Mr. F.
H. Kirkpatrick of the Central office will assist Mr. Culhane, and Mr. Tobias Butler, Jr., will succeed Mr. Kirkpatrick in the mailing department the general office.
Mr. J. F. Chapman of the Bay of Quinte Railway and Deseronto Navigation Company office removes next week to Deseronto. He will enter upon similar position in the office of the Thousand Islands Railway Co. He is succeeded by Mr. Edward Landon, late of the railway office in Gananoque.

Coming Events.

Do you want to have a delightful trip among the 1000 Islands? If so go on the Hero's excursion on Wednesday next, August 6th. There will be a jolly party from Napanee on board and you can rely on having a good time. The Hero will leave Napanee at 7 a. m. sharp, and Deseronto at eight o'clock, calling at Bay ports, if flagged.
The tickets are only seventy five cents and for that small sum you can go to either Kingston, Well's Island, or Alexandria Bay.
The sail down through fairland cannot be surpassed. On this trip the Hero will go down the Bay of Quinte and return to the American, passing the Pullman, Warner and other summer palaces. A delightful outing on the water; an hour and a half on Well's Island; a splendid view of the line scenery on the St. Lawrence and home by moonlight, all for seventy five cents. Don't miss this.

Death of Mr. Wm. Ney.

Mr. Wm. Ney, an aged and respected citizen, who has been ailing during the past year, passed peacefully away at the residence of Mr. Wm. Mitchell, his son-in-law, on the evening of Tuesday, July 29th, aged 72 years. The deceased was a native of Vermont, had resided in the greater part of his life at Moores, N.Y., and came to Deseronto over two years ago in order to be near his son. He was taken to the railway station where very much from heart disease, the cause of his death. Mr. Ney, though for only a comparatively short time a resident, had gained by his kindly and unassuming disposition many friends in Deseronto. He is survived by his wife and only child, Mrs.
Mitchell. The funeral will be held on Thursday, August 1st, at 10 o'clock, at the residence of Mr. Wm. Mitchell, and thence to the Grand Masonic Lodge of Canada.

joying a vacation by a visit to the hospital-
man on the Napanee road.

Mr. F. C. Campbell, enjoying the hospitality of Mr. & Mrs. H. Namath at "The Poplars" on Wednesday night last.

Mr. J. T. Greathart has so far recovered as to be able to take a visit to Thurlow with Mrs. Greathart during the past week.

Mr. Albert Fleming, of Kingston, passed through town on Monday to spend some holidays at Wellington and the Sandbanks.

Mr. M. P. Vandervoort and Mrs.
Vandervoort, mother of Dr. Vandervoort, arriving at Dr. Vandervoort's, St. George street.

Mr. Chas. Hose, formerly connected with the Eagle Mill, Rossmore, is lying dangerously ill at the residence of his daughter in Caniton.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH NOTES.

The music at the annual service on Wednesday evening last was pleasingly rendered by a small contingent from the S.S. choir, under the direction of Mr. Fowles. Miss Ella Evans acted as organist on the occasion. We welcome to the choir the new trained S.S. choir assistant regularly at the week day service.

On Sunday last the Rector officiated in the parish of Adolphstown.

Next Sunday is the ninth Sunday after Trinity and being the first Sunday in the month, Holy Communion will be celebrated at mid day service.

A very general and wide spread interest is being taken in the Sunday school annual drawing, which (weather permitting) will be held, as stated last week, on Friday next
the 8th inst., to "Prinny's Cove", on the S.
Frederick shore some 30 miles almost by water from the city of Kingston.

Refreshments will be offered for sale on the grounds. The beauty of the place selected, the extended sail, together with the exceedingly low fare of 25 cents (return) to all (outside of the school), will doubtless attract a large number of pleasure-seekers.

ADDRESS AND PRESENTATION.

The office of the Big Store of the Rathbun Company was the scene of a pleasing evening on the afternoon of Thursday, July 31st, when Mr. J. F. Stokes who has severed his connection with the Company was presented with an elegant gold headed cane by the staff of the store. The address which is subjoined refers to the great regret felt at Mr. Stokes' departure and expresses the hope that his associations with the employes of his department will be a pleasant remembrance. The address was read by Mr. E.
W. Scott, and Mr. Stokes, who was taken by surprise, made a suitable reply.

The occasion was a most agreeable inscription and bears the initials of all the donors.
The relations of Mr. Stokes with his fellow employees have been of a most friendly character as this episode amply testifies.

ADDRESS.

To Mr. James F. Stokes.

Dear Friend,—We, your fellow employes
in the service of the Rathbun Company, cannot but regret to see you leave us for another sphere of usefulness without addressing to you a few words expressive of regret at your departure.

We have been with you working side by side for a number of years during which time you have permitted us to become acquainted with your kind and friendly kindness of heart, urbanity and good fellowship and we are satisfied that these attributes combined with your business capabilities will enable you to achieve a most successful future.

In presenting you with this cane we trust that when looking at it in after years you will be reminded of the pleasant evening and the assurance you that although you may doubtless in the future secure friends more valuable than those to whom you are now leaving, you will not forget those to whom you cannot find that are more sincere or that will take more pleasure in hearing of your wellfare.

Signed by E. W. Scott, E. J. Sait, S.
Green, and others.

WHEN they find how rapidly health is restored by taking Ayer's Sarsaparilla. The reason is that Sarsaparilla contains only the purest and most powerful alternatives and tonics. To thousands yearly it proves a veritable elixir of life.

Mrs. J. S. Lake, Brockway Centre, Mich., writes: "I suffer from indigestion made my life a burden and cannot near ending and after months of faithful attention to your directions, I found myself
womanly able to attend to all household
duties. The medicine has given me
new lease of life, and I cannot thank you too much."

"We, the undersigned, citizens of Brockway Centre, Mich., hereby certify that the above statement, made by Mrs. Lake, is true in every particular to the full extent."—O. P.
Chamberlain, G. W. Waring, C. A.
Wells, Druggists.

"My brother, in England, was, for a long time, unable to attend to his occupation, by reason of sore on his foot.
I sent him Ayer's Sarsaparilla, and the testimonials it contained induced him to try Ayer's Sarsaparilla. After using it a little while, he was cured, and is now
a well man, working in a sugar mill
at Brisbane, Queensland, Australia."— A. Attwell, Sherkton Lake, Ontario.

Improvement

In my condition, my appetite began to return and with it came the ability to digest all the food taken, my strength returned, and after a few days, and after months of faithful attention to your
directions, I found myself
womanly able to attend to all household
duties. The medicine has given me

HERE YOU GO!

CHEAPSIDE'S

Great Semi-Annual Clearing Sale.

Though much later in the season than usual, in consequence of our trade being brisk and much larger than last year, commenced bright and early on Saturday Morning, 26th Inst.

AND WILL CONTINUE FOR TWO WEEKS.

NEW FALL GOODS are arriving, and lots of them are on the road. Our stock of Summer Goods is heavy, much heavier than we wish to see it at this time of year, and we are determined that this season's purchases must be sold this season. This has been our policy for years, and Cheapside's sale this season will be the same live, brisk, go-ahead sale, characterized by the same vim, push and low prices, for which Cheapside's sales have always been noted, and the bare announcement of which has been sufficient to fill the store. This sale will not be confined to summer goods alone. We are bound to protect ourselves and our customers from CUT PRICES from any source or for any reason. This sale will therefore embrace the entire stock without exception, and the prices will be cut to cost. We have had a large trade this season and made a fair profit. We can afford to give away our profits for the next two weeks to secure a big trade and get rid of a lot of goods, and that's what we are bound to do. It will be no sleepy, half-hearted, nifty-pammy, half-and-half, don't-care-whether-we-do-or-not sale. It's a case where prices are put so low as to awaken enthusiasm among the salesmen, the infection is caught by the purchasers, resulting in live business and quick exchange of goods for money, mutual happiness and satisfaction. Terms, as usual during cut sales, are cash. Large purchases, at exceedingly low prices (in many cases less than the cost of manufacture) have enabled us to supply you during the past two weeks with goods at prices which could not be competed with in this section, and yet yielded us a fair profit. What do you think they will be sold at, or the chances of others competing with us, now that our profits are whittled off? Come and see, we have no room for a price list, but every visitor will be given careful demonstration of the fact, that good money can be saved on their purchases, of the genuineness of the sales, and the tangibility of the reductions.

KEMMLER ELECTROCUTED.

ACRUIS, N.Y., Aug. 6th.—Between six and seven o'clock this morning, in the basement of the state prison in this city, William Kemmler was killed under the law, by the electric chair.

On March the 29th, 1889, he murdered his mistress, Tillie Ziegler, and his death to-day was the reparation for his crime. He breakfasted lightly. Between five and six o'clock religious services were held. He made his usual toilet. He was cheerful, cool and without apparent dread. He entered the death chamber about 6:30 o'clock. He assisted in preparing himself for death. He was placed in an ordinary chair by the warden, who introduced him to those present. He made brief farewell remarks. There were no prayers said in the death-room. The man was evidently devoid of nervous tension. His voice while speaking had no tremor.

He submitted to the traps quietly. He directed the adjustment of the electrodes. He made suggestions to the warden, and finally sat without a tremor to wait the stroke. A convulsion marked the application of electricity, noticed by all doctors present. The minister and warden estimated the exact conditions. When his coat was off Kemmler turned in the direction of the room through which he had come into the room and began to utter faint cries. At the same time the warden was drawing the interfering drape of his shirt through the hole cutting it off as he went, so as to leave the little surface of flesh, against which one of the electrodes was to press, absolutely bare.

But it was not fear that Kemmler felt. The warden, "the perfectly cool," he was perfectly cool, by all odds the coolest man in the room, which no doctor could see. He sat down in the electric chair as quietly as though he was sitting down to dinner. Warden Durston stood on the right and held the strap which was to hold him. They began immediately to adjust straps around Kemmler's body. The condemned man kneeling up his arms so as to give them support.

When the straps had been adjusted about the body the arms were fastened down and the warden, which no doctor could see, Kemmler's feet so as to bring his legs near the legs of the chair. While the straps were being arranged Kemmler said to the warden "I am ready." "I am ready," he said. "I am in a hurry. Be sure that everything is all right." Two or three times he repeated these phrases. Warden Durston reassured him with the remark that it would hurt him and that he (Durston) would be with him all through.

But it was not fear that Kemmler felt. When the straps had been adjusted to the body and limbs the warden placed his hand on Kemmler's head and held it against the back of the chair. The warden's hand was on the chair. Kemmler's eyes were turned towards the opposite side of the room. Then the condemned man made one or two remarks in a perfectly clear, composed tone of voice. "Well, I wish everybody good luck," was one of them, and "Durston, see that things are all right," was another. Deputy Warden Durston, who was standing behind the figure four at the back of the chair in place and began to lower it so that the rubber cap which held the electrodes would press against the top of Kemmler's head. The warden assisted in the preparation by holding Kemmler's head.

"When the strap had been adjusted and clamped in place Kemmler said: 'Oh, you had better press that down further, I guess I press it down.' So the head-piece was unlatched and pressed further down. While it was being done Kemmler said: 'Well, I want to be the best I can. I can't say any better than that. Warden Durston took in his hand the leather harness which was to be adjusted to Kemmler's head. As the harness was put in place Dr. Spitzka, standing near the chair said softly: 'God bless you, Kemmler,' and the condemned answered, 'Thank you.'

Warden Durston turned to the assembled doctors, those immediately around the execution chair, and said, 'Do the doctor say it is all right? Dr. Fell stepped forward with his right hand on his forehead, but he did not say a word. He looked at the electrodes, one on top of the head and the other at the base of the spine. Dr. Spitzka answered the warden's question with a sharp 'all right,' which was echoed by the others about him.

'Ready,' said Durston again, and then 'Good bye.' Durston stepped to the door and, through the opening, said to some one in the next room, 'Everything is ready.' As the stop watches in the hands of some of the witnesses registered 6:43, the electric current was turned on. There was a sudden explosion of the frame, in the chair, a spasm went over it from head to foot.

The twitching that the muscles of the face underwent gave to it for a moment an expression of pain, but no cry escaped from the lips which were free to move at will. No sound came forth to suggest, that consciousness lasted more than an infinitesimal fraction of a second beyond the calculation of the human mind. The body remained in this rigid position for seventeen seconds.

There was no move of the body beyond the first convulsion.

Dr. McDonald held a stop watch in his hand, and as the seconds flew by he noted their passage. As the tenth second expired he said, 'Ten seconds.' A quick movement and the electric current was switched off. There was a relaxation of the body in the chair. Dr. Spitzka calmly, 'Oh, he's dead,' echoed Dr. McDonald with firm confidence. There was a gasp in the mind of anyone but the staff, upright officer before them was lifeless.

Dr. Spitzka stepped forward and called attention to the appearance of the nose which he said had an undoubted post-mortem color. No one disputed this. Dr. Spitzka then pointed to the right arm, saying, 'That that arm can be taken to the hospital.' Dr. Hall, bending over the body looking at the exposed skin, said, 'The arm is cold, and the skin is that purple,' pointing to a red spot on the hand that rested on the right arm of the chair.

Dr. McDonald held a stop watch in his hand, and as the seconds flew by he noted their passage. As the tenth second expired he said, 'Ten seconds.' A quick movement and the electric current was switched off. There was a relaxation of the body in the chair. Dr. Spitzka calmly, 'Oh, he's dead,' echoed Dr. McDonald with firm confidence. There was a gasp in the mind of anyone but the staff, upright officer before them was lifeless.

her lips dropped saliva and a heavy sound escaped his lips. A half grown fellow itself past the tightly clenched lips and sounded through the still current with ghastly distinctness. Some of the witnesses turned away. Some of them lay down faint and sick. In 75 seconds the current was on and the body became rigid again. No mistakes were made this time. The full current of 2,000 volts was sent through the body in the chair, and it was thrown on and off for over four minutes.

No one was anxious to give the signal to stop, for all desired the responsibility of offering to the man a chance to revive or to give again those appearances of returning animation that had startled and sickened the witnesses a few minutes before. Suddenly there arose from the body a white vapor bearing with it a pungent and sickening odor. The body was burning. The current was cut off. There was no doubt about this time that the current had done its work, it not well at least completely. Dr. Fell said, 'Well, there is no doubt about one thing. The man never suffered an iota of pain in the after consultation with the other physicians expressed the same belief.

KINGSFORD.

From Our Own Correspondent.
The Misses Drewry, of Colborne and Miss Sherwood, of Brighton, are visiting Miss Minnie Gordon.

Miss Maggie McCullough left for Belleville on Friday to visit relatives there.

A fine steer and a heifer, the property of Mr. John McAuley, got out of their pasture and were found in the road. The cause of death is unknown.

Several parties started for the Bald mountains and other points north to picnic and search for berries, which are very plenty this year in those regions.

Mr. Wilson, of Camden, was visiting at his father's, Mr. Mitchell McCullough, last week.

Mr. Albert McCullough, who has been laid up for some time with inflammatory rheumatism, is better.

Mr. McKillen and Mrs. Simmons, of Napanee, have been visiting Mrs. James McHenry during the past week.

The tower and the outside of St. Patrick's Church have been painted, which much improves the appearance of the building.

Forest Mills, cheese factory has been receiving 12,500 lbs. of milk and making 17 cheese daily during the past week. 125 cheese were sold last week at 85¢ and were shipped to Toronto.

Miss Cole of Pictou, who has been visiting Mrs. Edward Brennan, has returned home. Miss Jennie Deville is visiting her sisters in Deseronto.

We have had intensely warm weather during the past week. The farmers are all in the hay. The barley has been all cut and drawn in. A good rain is much needed especially for potatoes and root crops.

TYENDINAGA RESERVE.

From Our Own Correspondent.

Our farmers who are busily engaged in the harvesting of grain the grain yield will not be up to the average.

The rain of Tuesday last will benefit late grain, root crops and pastures. Our market gardeners are jubilant.

We observe that during the church services here (Friday), Mr. Anderson still becomes hoarse, the effects of his throat trouble. He should get entire rest.

The sterner Alberta, still sows and sows when approaching the north shore, the poor widow has had no rent yet. The Indian Department should protect its wards from imposition.

Matters of importance to the land were discussed at the chiefs' council on Wednesday last. The elective principal introduced by the government several years since, secures more education and judgment to manage the public business.

A Frenchophile Anderson returned to the parsonage from Toronto on Monday last.

We are informed that the principal object of the recent visit of the Rev. Mr. Bell to the parsonage was to see the Rev. Mr. Bell in the old fashioned Mohawks the world over, is to prove by Wampanum Treaties, that Indian tribes in America were never by an hereditary line of chiefs, and to persuade the government to return to the old mode.

DEMORESTVILLE.

From Our Own Correspondent.
Mr. and Mrs. Walker and daughter spent Saturday and Sunday at the Rev. Mr. Robinson and wife, of Redfernville.

Miss Helen Whitney, of Rochester, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Whitney.

Mrs. Walker, of Warloworth, is stopping with her sister, Mrs. Charles Wright.

Miss Jessie Gourley spent a few days with friends in Belleville last week.

Miss Maggie Fisher is spending a few weeks with her friends, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dorland, in Belleville last week.

Mr. Edward Dorland and Miss Edith Dorland spent Sunday with Mr. Wm. Baker and family.

Mr. Ed. Trumpp was visiting friends in this vicinity on Sunday last.

Mr. Bumby, of Pictou, was in Demorestville on Sunday.

Miss Katie Fralich, of Pictou, is the guest of Miss H. Oryan.

GREENPOINT.

From Our Own Correspondent.
The fine rain of Tuesday came very acceptable. Late crops have suffered considerably for want of rain. Early potatoes are not very good, with poor prospects for the late crop.

Spring wheat is in the hands of the farmers, peas and some hay are yet to be harvested and promise a fair yield.

Mrs. L. McElvich, Mrs. D. McElvich, of Napanee, and Mrs. C. Cornwall, of Napanee, are visiting at Mr. H. Carman's.

Mrs. C. Carman, mother of Mrs. Cornwall, is in her eighties, and with very poor health. Her carpenter work is very slack, Joseph C. was blessed with a precocious genius.

Our first quarterly meeting after conference with the Presbytery of the Niagara was held on Sunday evening, the presence of the old grey and the high steward through the neighborhood.

Miss S. Hatch has been suffering considerably from a strained ankle.

NEWBURGH.

From Our Own Correspondent.
July 30th.—We are having very wet weather of late so that people do not like to stir themselves very much and therefore business is necessarily slow.

Our postmaster had quite a little fire on Friday last to have ignited from some coal oil cans setting fire to some papers near by. The firemen seem to be dwindling here only a few going to practice evenings.

A friendly game of baseball was played at Camden East on Sunday last. The place and Newburgh resulting in a victory for the former.

The work of getting the old Davern grist mill ready for rollers is progressing rapidly under the management of Mr. Drury.

The foundation is nearly all laid of H. P. and new stone.

The excursion under the management of Rev. D. O. Crossley to the Thousand Islands was a splendid success. $500 being realized. The excursion was started on Monday for Stoco lake to camp for a few weeks and more to follow.

The officers and teachers of the Presbyterian Sabbath school have a picnic in Pelee Grove, near Camden East, to-day.

The second night of Newburgh would like to hear from the Beaver baseballists of that town.

Our fishers have arrived home laden with fish.

August 6th.—The welcome rain has cooled the weather and more cheerful countenances can be seen now.

Mr. Frank H. Jones, of Renfrew, is home for a few days, visiting his parents.

Our old baseball writer, Mr. Joe Davis, now of Hastings, has again been writing letters, which were in the hands of the editor.

We expect to see a nice game of baseball in this place between the juniors of teams of this place and the seniors of the same.

Mr. C. H. Finkle's carriage works is running now with a full complement of men and hardly able to supply the demand.

Mr. Burleigh's Uncle Tom's Cabin is to show in this place on Thursday.

Rev. Mr. Allen, of the Presbyterian Church in Camden East, has been taken of respect on Tuesday evening at the church by his congregation. He leaves for Newcastle shortly where he will resume his duties.

An extension will be given to Tuesday on the 8th per N. T. & Q. railway where any who have not seen the thrilling little place may do so at a small expense.

Any one who is fond of cat music may hear it in all varieties of make and size, being raised in the big bridge at the foot of the big hill.

Mr. C. W. Thomson is adding beauty somewhat to Holmes, of Renfrew, by a nice fence in front with a stone foundation.

Mr. Ed. Sweeney is home from business in London, and will return to the college of the College of Pharmacy, Success Ed.

LIME FOR SALE.

BY CAR LOADS, WAGON LOADS or by Retail at low prices. Special terms given to parties building who require a large quantity. Leave orders with the Rathbun Co's.

The land boom in Toronto has collapsed and vacant houses are everywhere to be seen.

Deseronto must soon face the waterworks question. Such a system has become a necessity.

Rev. W. M. Pattison, Methodist minister, lately stationed at Roblin, died at Selwyn on Tuesday.

The heat of last Sunday had a depressing effect on church attendance, more especially at the evening service.

Commissioner Marriag has laid down a substantial straggler from Dr. Vandervoort's horse's process.

St. Mark's Church Sunday School held its annual picnic to day at Pringle's Cove, going down on the str. Hero.

Look out for bogus quarters. They may be detected by the ring and also on account of the edge not being perfectly milled.

Large quantities of hay have been arriving from Pringle and other points down the bay to be shipped east over the B. & Q. & T. Railway.

Mr. Reid, architect, is arranging the plans of the new brick hotel which will be erected on St. George street, by Mr. Geoffrey Colp.

Summer ducks are very plentiful this year, but any person shooting them before Sept. 1st will be heavily fined. Inspectors are everywhere on the alert.

A few broken and loose boards and projecting nails in the boardwalk near Connaught's residence are claiming attention, or rather a new stretch of good walk.

Mr. Wm. Rixon, while stepping from the boat with a kit of tools at his feet, fell into the bay one day last week. He was fished out none the worse of his watery experience.

Mr. John Dalton has sold his handsome span of black horses to Mr. Anton Baker, of Picton, who appears to be purchasing all the fine horses of the district for his livery establishment.

Next Monday is the anniversary of the battle of Lake Champlain, which took place in 1814, and next Thursday is the anniversary of the battle of Fort Erie which took place the same year.

Remember that since the opening in May Mr. Hurst of Uncle Tom's Cabin Company has secured almost a completely new staff who make up a first class repertoire company to take the road this winter.

Everywhere the newspapers are complaining of the slow way in which immigration finds its way into Manitoba and the west territories. The towns and villages in the west are all at an ignominious standstill.

It looks as if the town council lacks backbone enough to order the removal of all these overhanging signs. They have disappeared from all the progressive towns of the country. Deseronto should not be behind.

The Kingston Whig states that an English syndicate has purchased lands in the vicinity of Lake Huron, and intend manufacturing marl into fertilizer for the agricultural industries. The erection of large buildings has been commenced.

Mr. Robert Anderson, of the Flour Mill, caught a large black bass the other day, which was nearly as big as the master of the mill. The fish was so big that it was catching large fish they have no close competitors in Deseronto. They forget the Tribune's big catch in St. George's Bay.

In the election to fill the vacant seat in the house of commons held in Kent, N. B., on Thursday, July 31st, the vote stood as follows: Legere, 1,401; McInerney, 986; Legere, 686. All the votes were Conservative.

Dr. Legere who is elected is a French Canadian, and was the Government candidate.

The Intelligence states that some weeks ago seven hundred and ten note cases were tried before His Honor Judge Frazer, and those interested have been anxiously awaiting his judgment in the same. Last week he gave judgment in the cases for the plaintiffs.

This means that the farmers will have to pay the notes.

The Canadian Nation, the organ of truth, righteousness and the "Third Party," is no more. We used to hear of third party men in Deseronto, but they disappeared on June 24th, when they voted with the Conservatives in the same manner as their degenerate neighbors.

"Third Party" is generally a good excuse put forward for deserting your old party in order to go over to the other camp.

The only disagreeable feature about the streets now in the presence of so much paper is his duty to himself to keep the streets clean and the consequence is that all along the streets between the boardwalks and front fences, there is a deposit of bits of paper of all ages and shapes. A few careless people, especially on Thomas street, carefully remove this offensive deposit but others are waiting for the City Council to send a call.

Mr. J. F. Chapman, after spending a few days with friends in Frankfort, left on Tuesday for Gannaway where he enters upon duties in the office of the Thousand Island Railway Company. While connected with the Bay of Quinte Ry and Navigation Company in Deseronto he proved himself a very capable and courteous official, and we have no doubt he will make himself as popular with the public in Gannaway.

Company has a great number of social circles and the young people greatly regret his removal. He is followed by his new partner with the best wishes of a large circle of friends.

George Burtin's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company have yielded to the general desire and consented to play at Deseronto while passing through the town. They will accordingly appear at the old place east of Smith's Hotel on the evening of Monday, August 11th. The Company have been meeting with very good success during the season and both orchestra and Company have been reorganized to that an excellent representation of this pathetic and popular play may be expected. This play never fails to please old and young. Remember the date, Monday evening August 11th.

On Monday afternoon Mr. Jas. F. Stokes left for Toronto where he intends making his future home. During the past season Mr. Stokes has acted as accountant and manager of the Kingston Railway Company's office. He filled the difficult and responsible duties of his position with much fidelity and to the satisfaction of his employers. Mr. Stokes was one of the leaders of the Deseronto Athletic Association and a member of the Ontario Cricket Club and is undoubtedly one of the best all round cricketers in Canada. A large number of friends in Deseronto unite in wishing him all success in the provincial metropolis.

We have received a copy of the first number of The Liberal Nationalist published at St. John's, Nfld. It is a new, well edited journal, judging by this first number, must command success.

Mr. Frank Hall, of the Central Office, went off on a fishing expedition yesterday with a grim determination to catch a bass larger than Mr. Robert Anderson's monster fish or perish in the attempt.

The farewell production of Uncle Tom's Cabin Company on Monday evening next will not lose the opportunity of witnessing the presentation of the pathetic old drama.

The "Hero" had a sharp brush with the Pilgrim, a fast American steamer, between Capt. Bloomfield and Captain C. G. B. on Tuesday morning, and the latter was overhauled the foreigner and came first to port at Kingston.

A party consisting of Rev. E. J. Craig, E. G. Benedict, J. L. Blake, Mr. & Mrs. E. W. Rathbun, Mrs. P. S. Rathbun, Miss Blake, etc., went out by special train to Tweed on Monday and greatly enjoyed the trip over the K. N. & W. Railway.

Hungry burglars entered the residence of a citizen on Tuesday night and helped themselves to a large roast of beef cooked the day before and other eatables. They then reclined in the hammock and consumed their prey, as was evidenced by picks of meat which lay to the ground. Cool procedure.

Dr. Jamieson and Johnson, of McGill College, Montreal, were in town on Wednesday on their way up the bay in their yacht.

Dr. E. F. Fildor Ruttan, of the same institution, was recalled to town on the trip but was unable to accompany them over the whole route.

At the invitation of Mr. John Bell, C. C. B. a party consisting of Messrs. E. G. Benedict, of Albany, J. L. Blake, of Toronto, of Park, of Glasgow, Wm. Hindhaugh, of Oswego, E. W. Rathbun and W. C. B. Rathbun went out to enjoy a day's fishing at West Lake on Sunday.

They were successful in killing a number of black bass.

A very happy excursion party went down to the Thousand Islands on the Hero last Wednesday and the day was enjoyed by all. The ladies were very comfortable and the trip on the Hero is rendered exceedingly pleasant by the courtesy of the officers.

Capt. Bloomfield is always in good humor and the officers are unfailingly and supply of polite attention which makes him the best of all an official. Engineer

Johnston is the master of his profession, and as the steady performance of the vessel is best evidence. Stewart Tilton sits a table which suits the palate of the most fastidious. No wonder the Hero retains her popularity.

Casualties.
On Monday, Mr. Murray Deans had his hand injured while working a self binder on the Chamber's farm. Dr. Newton dressed the wound.

A Bone Frost.
The orchestra which will assist at the production of Uncle Tom's Cabin next Monday evening is from the Toronto Opera House. The concert connected with the show is entirely new and first class.

Each person buying a 25 cent ticket will receive a concert ticket free. Children with a 15 cent ticket will be also admitted to the concert free.

Cricket Match.
An interesting cricket match was played last week between Kingston and Napanee clubs. The game was decided in the first inning.

On Tuesday, August 12th, the storm, Hero, will carry an excursion to that city under the auspices of Victoria Lodge, No. 9, P. A. E. B. L. 6300, and the 488, of Picton, from Picton and all bay ports. Ship 7:30; Deseronto 8:15; Caledonia 8:30; Northport 9:00; Adolphstown 10:10; Cressley 10:40; Bath 11:30; reaching park at 4 p. m., where two hours will be given. Returning, leave the Park at 6 o'clock.

P. Slaven & Co's great clearing sale has caused a sensation that has not been known in the dry goods trade for years past. The move appears like a new era in the trade and country that they are nearly giving goods away, and the consequence is that their store has been crowded with customers every day since the sale began.

In fact Messrs. Slaven are getting "more and more" and they are looking for more clerks and assistants. They have pressed all the ladies in the millinery and dress-making departments to serve behind the counter and yet they are not able to wait on the customers. It all goes to show that money is not so scarce as people complain of.

Township Clerk,

Shannonville.

TO-DAY, FRIDAY, THE FIRST OF AUGUST,

P. SLAVEN & CO.

Will commence one of their old time clearing sales, when all the goods in the store will be marked right down in red ink to prices so low as to paralyze all previous records. We will offer the goods at prices that will knock all other sales cold and stiff, and don't you forget it. We will offer inducements that will bring the farmers in from their harvests; the builders will come down from the housetop; and mothers that are nursing their babies will hurry to the store to secure a share of the great bargains that we always offer on these occasions.

This language may seem like buncombe to some; but we can assure you that we mean business. We are overloaded with goods and have a great many notes to meet in August, so we have determined to turn the goods into money if low prices will do it.

We could astonish you, reader, by publishing a list of the prices that we will offer, but the trouble would be that before you would get here some of those cheap lines would be sold out, and, unless you are more charitable than some people, you would say that we never had them; that we are only humbugs. We say, therefore, come to the store as soon as you can and see the goods, take them in your hand and examine them.

Our goods are always marked in plain figures—look at the price and we have no fear of the result. This sale is not advertised for the purpose of running off a few lines of summer goods only. The reduction will be general throughout the store. Stacks of goods will be sold at a discount of 25 per cent. Other piles will be sold at a discount of 33½ per cent., and a few goods will be sold at a discount of 50 per cent., while staple, ready-money goods, as we call them, will be sold at a discount of from 5 to 12½ per cent. But nothing will escape the slaughter!

The Terms, of course, will be STRICTLY CASH. We will send samples of goods to ladies living out of town, and any goods they order can be sent by mail at the rate of one cent per ounce to any place in Canada. The store will be kept open on Saturday and Wednesday evenings until 9 o'clock for the accommodation of our customers in the country.

THE MERITS OF WOOD ASHES.

In an essay read before the American Horticultural Society at the Cleveland, Ohio, meeting a few days ago, Mr. J. M. Smith gave an account of the means employed for the prevention of the evil effects of a prolonged drought. Among these means a free use of wood ashes was named as one of the simplest and most effective.

Recently Mr. Smith has made a comparative test of the effects of wood ashes and barn yard manure on a scale large enough to show results that are more than an "indication." Two acres lying side by side were treated exactly alike in every respect except that one was manured with unleached wood ashes, and the other with stable manure. Mr. Smith reports the results of the trial to the Prairie Farmer as follows: The acre fertilized with ashes yielded fifty-one bushels the most, and if there was any difference in quality it was in favor of those that had the ashes. Now, the fair inference would be that the ashes were much the better manure for potatoes. Let us look a little further: The last half of May and the first half of June were wet and cold and so far the two acres seemed to keep just about even. After June 15th the weather became very dry, and there was little rain upon the plants until they were ripe. Very soon after the ground began to get dry it could be plainly seen that those manured from the compost heap were suffering from want of rain, while those manured with ashes were growing very rapidly. This continued until they were ripe.

The simple fact is, potatoes or strawberries manured with ash manure, that would be ruinous to crops fertilized with any manure I have ever tried. To this fact I attribute the failure of the compost heap acre to hold its own with the acre upon which ashes were used. I have tried the experiment many times, always with precisely the same result, provided we had a dry season during the growth of the crop. I do not know but the rule will hold good with all farm and garden crops, but with the above named there is no doubt. I do not underrate ashes as manure. I have used them in preference to any fertilizer I could get for potatoes for many years.

A MAN'S TERRIBLE STRUGGLE.

BANQUO, Me., August 4.—Harvey A. Smith, a friend of Cassin's, had a desperate struggle on Wednesday with a mad horse. The animal is a large stallion with a vicious disposition. Mr. Smith had the stallion harnessed with another horse, when the stallion became vicious and attacked his mate with his teeth and hoofs. Mr. Smith quickly unhooked the traces and succeeded in uncoupling the horses, when the stallion attacked him. Mr. Smith succeeded in subduing the horse and leading him down the barn, where he tethered him on the barn floor. He removed the harness and was proceeding to take him to his stall, when the vicious brute suddenly attacked him again. The wind blew the barn door shut, and Mr. Smith was imprisoned on the barn floor with the frantic animal. For nearly half an hour he fought him with no weapon but his fists, leaping aside to avoid the assaults as much as possible, but being often knocked down and fearfully bruised. Finally the horse in some way disengaged a sled stake from the side of the door, and Smith saw it rolling toward him on the floor. Seizing the stake he swung it with all the strength of desperation, and striking the stallion just behind the ear, with one blow laid him dead at his feet. Smith is badly injured.

ARE YOU TIRED

LOOKING AT ADVERTISEMENTS OF

Cost Sales, Clearing Sales, Etc., Etc.?

We wish to coin a new expression that would appeal to the gain-loving side of your nature without wearying you, and at the same time convince you of the truthfulness of our statements. We suppose you generally doubt their genuineness when you see advertisements of "Goods at Cost" and less than cost. Please make us an exception to your rule, and believe us when we say we are holding a very special LOW CUT sale. We have bought too heavily in some lines, and we are anxious to turn them into money. We would be glad to get what we paid for them, though we bought many at much less than their value, and that's why we are holding this sale.

WE ARE CLEARING

Those Fine, Wide-stripe French Lawns, fast colors, worth 20 cents, for 15 cts. We are clearing Fast-color Challies at 75 cts., Fast-color Lawns at 44 cents, and we have made other pile of 5 cent Dress Goods; most of them belong to the 10 and 12 1/2 ct. piles, but we want to sell them.

WE HAVE TOO MANY SILKS

AND WILL SELL LOVELY

$1.25 Silks for $1.00,
$1.50 Silks for 1.15,
$2.50 Satins for $1.50,
$1.50 Satins for $1.10,
$1.25 Satins for $1.00,
$1.00 Satins for 80 cents,
80 ct. Satins for 70 cents.

You can save a lot of money on your purchases during our great sale. Everything in the house heavily cut down.

From Our Own Correspondent. Miss Maude Earle returned home this week having spent several weeks with friends at Thomaburgh and Tweed.

Mr. Arthur McLaren, of Lanaster, left for his home on Saturday last.

Miss Ida Knight, of Bloomfield, and Mr. Chas. Knight, of Chicago, were the guests of Mr. M. R. Lake last week.

Master Will Peake, of Mervin, is the guest of his sister, Mrs. L. E. Mills.

Messrs. Fred Earle and J. Doreen left on Monday night last for Michigan.

Rev. E. Dewar Lewis left on Monday to attend the R. T. of T's camp at Montreal.

Quarterly service was held in the Methodist Church on Sabbath last and was quite largely attended.

MILLTOWN.

From Our Own Correspondent. Miss McQuig, who has been stopping with her sister Mrs. Little, has returned to her home at Alton.

Mrs. Abner Stratton presented her husband with a young son on Friday last.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Davis, of Deseronto, were the guests of Mr. Wm. Barriag on Saturday last.

Miss Ida Embury, of Deseronto, is spending her vacation at her father's Mr. Andrew Embury.

Miss Ella Pennick, accompanied by a friend Miss Robinson, both of Colindale, is visiting at her father's, Mr. Jas. Pennick.

The men who were engaged in the arch have it completed and it has made a decided improvement to the place as the mason work is said to be some of the finest that has ever been done. The people will not be sorry for it has made it very inconvenient for those having to pass backwards and forth that way.

NEWBURGH.

From Our Own Correspondent. Everything seems to be running on the same old tune and nothing to awaken the people from their slumbers.

Left, is the word given to the boys who went to the 8th to play baseball with the Twentys, although the game stood ten to seventeen in favor of Newburgh at the close of the game.

Look out for the Sabbath School excursion sometime soon to Massagosa Point and Belleville by the Methodist Sabbath School of this place.

Very anxious again—the junior club of this place and Kingston did battle on Monday last to see which could play baseball, but our boys have learned how to play a little and came out victors by a score of 46 to 12.

Camden East and Newburgh base ball teams will come together to have a friendly game on Saturday next, on Newburgh grounds at 1:30 p.m.

James A. Paul and Geo. M. Bowman, of this place, spent Sunday last in Belleville.

Mr. James Thompson and son left for Westminster Springs on Tuesday last for a short stay. Mr. Thompson, Sr., has not been very well lately and we hope to hear of better health on his return.

Miss Jennie Stickney, daughter of D. B. Stickney, has arrived home after a visit to her sister.

Mr. H. Parks, wife and sister-in-law, of Deseronto, spent Sunday last with their parents in the city.

The Methodist pulp was occupied on Sunday evening by Rev. Mr. Phillips, of St. Thomas, in Rev. D. O. Crossley's place who was unwell.

DISTRICT ITEMS.

"Yankee Doodle" was the yacht race at Gananoque on August 7th.

The Kingston humane inspector is shooting old and decrepit horses in that city.

A tall young woman from Gananoque, who was carrying a bundle of goods, was a conspicuous object at her braided hair trailed on the boardwalk.

The wife of Dr. Dumble, Gananoque, whose maiden name was Beyer, of Colborne, died on Tuesday, aged 35 years.

The House of Providence, Kingston, was injured by fire on Tuesday.

Mrs. Leva Leva, of Bloomfield, and Mrs. Bowerman, of Battle Creek, Mich., were badly injured last Saturday, their horse becoming frightened by a traction engine, and the women were thrown from the vehicle.

Bowmanville Band took first place in the recent class bands at the Hamilton tournament.

PICNIC AND EXCURSION.

On Friday, the 8th inst., St. Mark's Church Sunday school held its annual summer festival. The locality visited was the beautiful sheltered spot on the Prince Edward shore opposite South Fredericksburgh.

The excursion proved in every respect one of the most successful the school has ever enjoyed; indeed the general verdict at its close was that no more pleasant excursion had been afforded the inhabitants of Deseronto this season than that of Friday last. At an early hour the young people were assembled in holiday attire, and soon many a merry laugh was heard as they wended their way to the dock, which by the appointed time, 7:30 a.m., was crowded with the Sunday School pupils, their teachers, and senior members of the church, together with many friends from other extended visits, and glimmers of sunshine in the varied pleasures of this thoroughly enjoyable day. A little later and all had safely embarked upon the gallant steamer "Hero" to the number of about 350, and soon were steaming fleetly down the bay, enjoying the pure air of a superb August morning and the delightful scenery of the Queen's district and Conway's bay, until for beauty among the inland water stretches of Central Ontario. Surely no more pleasing prospect can be found than that which on such a morning met the eye. The placid stretch of waters known as the "Long Reach" opens out before you, and the water's edge give back their mirrored reflection in many a shade of summer green. Ever and anon the scene is broken by a comfortable looking farm in the midst of well tilled acres; again a little settlement appears and once more sailing close by some high bluff you seem to be passing upon a Canadian wildwood beauty. But, why attempt a description of scenes doubtless familiar to all readers of The Tribune. Let not our familiarity with them, however, make us oblivious to their natural charms. Pictou is reached, Glenora (the scene of last year's picnic) is reached, and the party gained. Here a detachment from Adolphustown Parish Sunday School, under the charge of Rev. R. S. Forner, joined the party and accompanied it to Pictou where it was reached about 11 o'clock. The crowd proved an ideal picnic ground, possessing every natural advantage of shade and scenery; ample space for games, good drinking water and a safe shore for bathing, while to crown all the excursionists cannot soon forget the hearty welcome extended them by Messrs. J. M. Anderson, Chas. Oliver and the grove) and other residents, who in anticipation of the school's visit, had most thoughtfully furnished the grounds with swings, seats, etc., thus contributing greatly to the pleasure and comfort of their numerous visitors—young and old. But nature's laws are inexorable, and a philosophical axiom is always about to be a vacuum; little wonder, therefore, that shortly after reaching our destination, every one suddenly seemed to realize the fact that the picnic had come to an end, and forthwith in all directions, festive parties seated on the ground in true gypsy fashion, proceeded to make vigorous attacks upon the picnic supplies.

In the afternoon a capital list of sports was successfully carried out under the supervision of Messrs. J. Hoppes, J. McCullough and Wm. Evans. The games over, bathing, boating and fishing occupied the remaining interval until the hour for tea had arrived.

"Fishing on dry land" was one of the features of the day, the "Fish Pond" under the management of the "Haverall Guild" driving a brisk trade and seemingly affording more sport than did real angling in the Bay.

The several committees worked indefatigably during the day; especially onerous were the duties of the refreshment stand committee who in the person of Messrs. G. Egan, J. M. Anderson, Chas. Oliver and the popular secretary of the school, Marshall Oliver, were kept busily employed throughout the day.

Here again love is in sight, and the home-ward trip began proving as enjoyable as the outward, enlivened as it was with songs, choruses and hymns.

On reaching the dock the hearty cheers were given for the officers of the boat, the Doxology was sung, and lastly the National Anthem. Thus ended this highly satisfactory excursion and picnic of St. Mark's Church S. S. for 1890.—Com.

TYNDINAGUA RESERVE.

From Our Own Correspondent. There will be no service in either of the churches on the Reserve on Sunday next the 15th inst., as the Rev. Mr. Anderson, who has been obliged to leave home for a rest.

The Reverend A. L. Geen will D.D. officiate on the Reserve on Sunday the 24th of August.

William Henry Seismich, who died on the Reserve last week, was buried at the Union School house in Richmond on Saturday. The Reverend Mr. Anderson preached the funeral sermon at All Saints Church on Sunday afternoon.

No fire water will be allowed in the grove next week. Any one breaching the law laid down will be liable to a fine.

Our person left home on Tuesday for a holiday. He was surprised to meet at the station a man who had been who had been a pure containing money to assist him in his travels. He will be joined at Toronto by the Rev. Mr. Ashton, of the city.

Mr. Brandford, who will accompany him to the Shingwauk Home, Sault Ste. Marie, Mr. Anderson's parishioners wished him God speed and hoped he would return in better health.

It has been learned that Arthur Day, the merchant, has purchased his wife over the precipice at Niagara Falls, had three wives living. His sister, Mrs. Quigley, has been committed to Wexford jail as a vagrant.

A Sure Cure for Summer Complaint.

The grand demonstration in honor of the 20th anniversary of the Relief of Derry which was held at Belleville on Tuesday, proved a conspicuous and decided success, Boys under whose auspices it was originated and carried to a conclusion. Such an assembly of Derry societies had not been in an early hour the streets of Deseronto were highly creditable to the city and its inhabitants, as the Hero was to leave 8:15 for Belleville. Happy pleasure seekers were everywhere to be seen and the streets were lined with people who wished to witness the procession of the members of Victoria Lodge, No. 9, Practice Boys, who were to participate in the day's celebration. Headed by the Citizens' Band playing excellent music, the Victoria started from their lodge room and marched through the streets to the dock and everywhere elicited admiration and deserved compliments for their splendid appearance. The brethren were all neatly and becomingly dressed and wore silk hats and all the insignia of their order. It is conceded that no society in Deseronto ever made such a good parade and good day as the day of the celebration. The day was a grand event and procession of the Victoria Lodge, No. 9, bore the banner of the day. The following are the superior officers of this lodge: Wm. Huff, W. M.; John Symons, D. M.; D. AND YET "THE HALF HAS NOT BEEN TOLD."

It is hard to believe that a merchant will sell 8 and 10 cent Goods for 2 cents a yard; 20 and 25 cent Goods for 10 cents a yard, and other Goods in proportion, and yet this is what we are doing every day.

People must come to the store and see the Goods and prices before they can realize the truth of what we say; and yet the slaughter goes on every day and fresh piles of goods and money are offered up at the altar of mammon.

The people are made happy by getting bargains and we are made happy by getting the money to meet our notes. And so the money is kept in circulation and the world is kept moving. We have done something desperate this week in the Hosiery department.

Misses. Black Silk Hose at 90c. are reduced to 65c.; 45c. goods were reduced to 33 cents, and so on.

Ladies' cold Lisle Hose at 60 cents are reduced to 40c. Ladies Grey Cashmere Hose at 80c. a pair are reduced to 45c. a pair.

Girls Colored Lisle Hose at 50 cents are reduced to 30 cents; 40c. Hose are reduced to 25 cents and so on.

Table and Piano Covers have suffered. Raw Silk Table Covers at $4.50 are reduced to 3.00; smaller ones with fringe that were 1.75 are reduced to 1.00; 1.25 clothes are reduced to 80c. and 60c. ones reduced to 45c.

Cloth Tables Covers embroidered with Chinille at 4.50 are reduced to 3.61; larger ones at 5.50 reduced to 4.00. Large Cloth Piano Covers embroidered with silk that were 4.50 are reduced to 2.35, and our very best marked 6.50 are reduced now to 4.50.

We only mention a few of the reductions to give an idea of the bargains that we offer. Come and see them all.

Largest Sum Ever Paid for a Book.

The report that a syndicate of rich Jews has offered $40,000 or almost $300,000, for the Vatican copy of the Hebrew Bible renders interesting the history of previous negotiations for the purchase of this very book.

In 1522, when Pope Julius II was desperately in need of funds to keep up the "Holy League" against Louis XII of France, he was approached by the Jews as his successor in the chair of St. Peter is now. They offered a comparatively small sum at first, but subsequently increased the amount, tending at the same time a blank order on one of their number in Venice to be filled up in ducats according to the weight of the Bible as against an equal weight of pure gold.

The Pope got so far as to weigh the precious volume, and found that it scaled 325 pounds avoirdupois, or 432 pounds old Troy, which at 24 the ounce, then about the value of gold, represented the enormous sum of $23,784 and a fraction. This amount in its equivalent the Jews pressed on the Pope, who, however, either because he found himself unable to part with property in which he would not seem to have more than a life interest, or on account of the pressure brought to bear on him, declined after much hesitation to part with the volume. Should the present negotiations be more successful the amount now offered will be the largest ever paid for a book, whether in manuscript or in print, according to Fall Mail Budget, authentic for the foregoing statistics. The most recent approach was the $10,000 (or nearly $50,000) paid by the German government in 1884 for the Missal formerly given by Leo X to Henry VIII, along with a parchment containing on that sovereign the title of "Defender of the Faith." The Missal was given by Charles II to the Duke of Devonshire, and whose family it remained for more than 200 years.

Jane and Joan.

Jessie, the feminine of John the gracious gift of God, has given to the world Jessie, Jessica and Johanna, the German peasant and the Jane which was introduced during the Tudor period when Jane Seymour at once rendered it so fashionable that it became the courtly title, and Joan descended to the cottage and the kitchen.

A Terrible Oedon.

A party of three gentlemen were seated at a table of a popular cafe the other evening, discussing the case of a friend who had recently been through a terrible surgical operation, when one of the party, who had had a similar operation performed on him some years ago, observed: "A man who is about to undergo a difficult surgical operation experiences something of the same feeling that I have known it was so in my case. I had nerved myself, I thought, for the terrible ordeal, and had the assurance of my family physicians that the odds that I would come through all right were largely in my favor, and yet, when the surgeon and his assistants with their aprons tied under their chins-I have faced death in battle and I don't think there is a drop of car-blood in me, but my heart quailed at this sight and it took all my fortitude to enable me to mount the table. I tried to leave while the assistance arranged for the anaesthetic, but, do what I would, the feeling that I was about to part with my life could not be banished, and as I said before I then experienced a something akin to the pang of death." -New York

TURN HARLEY INTO PORK.

If the McKinley bill should be adopted and Canadian barley shut out of the states, our farmers cannot do better perhaps than transform their barley into pork. A Kingston merchant writes: "Owing to a number of farmers in this section during the past two years have fed their barley instead of selling it at the low price offered. They have kept account and find that they have made over 80 cents per bushel out of it in that way, after deducting expenses of labor, etc. This was before the new duty was placed on pork, and they should do better now." According to present appearances Congress will not pass the McKinley bill, but even though Mr. McKinley demanded 20c, and senate finance committee recommends 25c.

POPULATION OF THE ARGENTINE REPUBLIC.

In the Argentine the population is reckoned at 4,000,000, nine tenths of which are whites of Caucasian race, descendants of the conquistadores and of numerous colonists. There are about 3,000,000 natives, 800,000 foreigners, 300,000 cross-breeds or metis, and 100,000 Indians. The white population is almost entirely of Latin origin. The Anglo-Saxon and Slav elements not exceeding 100,000 individuals. The 800,000 foreigners are the result of recent immigration, and include 400,000 Italians and 150,000 Spaniards—in other words, the scum of the two most backward and degenerate nations of Europe. In the modernization of the Argentine—that is to say, in the great progressive movement of the past twenty years—England has played the capital and Latin Europe has provided the workers. Latin Europe has sent across the ocean a million human beings. England has sent countless millions of capital to build railways, land companies, and government loans. Meanwhile the crores have continued to rule, and the mass of the natives have remained indolent and vegetative as before.—THEODORE CHILD, in HARPER'S WEEKLY.

THE BRITISH EMPIRE.

Up to a few weeks ago, says the St. Louis Globe Democrat, the British empire comprised an area of a little more than 9,000,000 square miles, or a small fraction in excess of the dimensions of the domain over which is extended the sway of the czar. To-day British Empire or British realm, as exceeding 11,000,000 square miles. The treaty with Germany, by which the British "sphere of influence" is extended from the eastern coast of Africa to the first degree of south latitude to the southern boundary of Egypt, exclusive of the Congo Free State and the region over which Italy presumes to exercise a sort of protectorate, adds about 2,000,000 square miles to the domain of the Queen of England and Empire of India and puts that potentate well in advance of Alexander III, in the game of territorial acquisition.

It is only when a comparison is made with some of the great states of Europe and of the western hemisphere that the enormous dimensions of the British empire can be appreciated. The extent of European Russia is slightly in excess of 2,000,000 square miles, that of Brazil is about 3,000,000, while the United States, including Alaska, is about 3,600,000 square miles. China is still larger than any of the nations last mentioned, having an area exceeding that of the United States by nearly 500,000 square miles. But the British empire, within its new and enlarged boundaries, is three times as capacious as the United States. Out of that domain could be carved a territory as large as this country, Brazil, and Russia, leaving enough over to make up two or three little states like France, Germany, or Austria.

The empire of course is not as homogeneous as any of the nations last mentioned, and the ties which bind its widely separated branches together are far looser and more shadowy than those which bind the vast possessions of Russia in allegiance to the Muscovite. Yet the domain over which Victoria rules in theory at least is vastly broader than that over which Alexander exercised supreme sway, and is more widely extended and diversified than the world of civilized, semi-civilized and barbarous states which in the days of Julius and Augustus acknowledged allegiance to Rome.

THE CHEESE INDUSTRY.

A large quantity of cheese is being shipped from this district this year. It is largely in excess of last year. In speaking to a prominent cheese dealer at Deseronto a reporter was told that this year was the most favorable for cheese making in several years. It was pointed out that this was a large business as compared with former years. The general output from Canada to July first was over 150,000 boxes in excess of last year. Of course, the surplus which brought in from the United States.

ROMANCE OF MARRIAGE.

GREAT MEN WHO HATED OR LOVED THEIR WIVES.

They had to borrow the Ring and the Money for His Wedding—The Queen Tree Planted by Request on Pretty Lady Cornwallis' Grave.

To count no man happy till he was dead was a maxim of the ancients. To count no man happy till you have examined into his married life may also be a maxim of practical wisdom in a world in which matrimonial mistakes are so common, and so commonly disastrous. Every one can read off a list of famous men who have been unhappy in domestic life. Among the married who secured happiness we find at least a few men of the first rank. Mr. Arnold leads the list; and the picture of him is one we are all more or less familiar with from the writings of Alvan Stanley.

Lord Beaconsfield, too, was a personal happiness in love and domestic joys. He was poor and his wife made him rich; he was ambitious of politics and his wife opened the door of success; he was a great success in his career, and his wife sympathized keenly with him, and at least did not hamper him. He was grateful to his wife, and his wife was kind, he was everything that a gentleman ought to be in such a case to a woman who really loved him; but perhaps his condition of mind was not, after all, happy. Writing to his sister in 1859 he said: "As for love, all my friends who married for love and beauty are either dead or divorced. It is literally the case. I may commit many follies in life, but I never intend to marry for love, which, I am sure, is a guarantee of infidelity." He was not favorably impressed by Mrs. Lewis when he met her the first time.

"I was introduced, by particular desire, to Mrs. Wynn Lewis, a very little woman, a flirt and a rattle; indeed gifted with a volubility I should think unequalled and of which I can convey no idea." Yet he told me she liked me, and I told her I loved her. I answered that "I had no doubt of it." Yet he was to marry her, and to find later society a life of success and of high content at least. On April 13, 1867, when he defeated Mr. Gladstone's amendment to the reform bill, the younger members of the party extemporized a supper at the Carlton and begged him to join them. But, as Lady Beaconsfield was never tired of repeating, "Dix came home to me. And she would add how he ate half the roast pie and drank the whole of the bottle of champagne which she had prepared in anticipation of his triumph. She was truly proud of him; and he was fond of telling her in joke that he had married her for her money, to which she would reply: "Ab, but you had to do over again you would do it for love"—a statement to which he always smilingly assented. Indeed, he never lost an opportunity of eulogizing his wife in public, and on one occasion at a harvest home at Highbury, he spoke of her as "the best wife in England."

In dealing with the romance of marriage it was impossible, of course, to omit the story of Lady Sarah Lennox and George III. No doubt at all, if George had had his own way he would have made Lady Sarah his queen. He used to ride past the house in which she lived every day, and during the harvest festival of 1790 he was seen making his way on the lawn in a bewitching costume. When the king finally married the German princess, Lady Sarah was one of the bridesmaids. On this occasion, a nobleman, who had not been to court since the accession of the house of Hanover, paid his respects to the king. He was very much alarmed, but struck by the beauty of Lady Sarah, and mistaking her for the queen, he plumped down on his honest old Jacobite knee and kissed her hand. Lady Sarah was much confused, but his wife, saying, "I am not the queen," George Selwyn said of the old nobleman: "He was always partial to pretensions," a slap at Lady Sarah's partial devotion to her husband.

Two of the remarkable men of the last century were unfortunate in their love affairs. One was rejected in the first love affair, and, as every one knows, he was killed before he married Miss Lowther, to whom he was engaged, and who subsequently married some one else.

Lord Cornwallis made a love-match, but his wife was so much attached to him and so grief-stricken at his absence during such long years, that she fell into a melancholy and died a few weeks after her husband had flung up his command and come home to see her. She directed that a thorn tree should be planted over her grave, and that her name should not be graven upon the headstone. It was after her death that Lord Cornwallis returned to service in America, the end of which was also the end of his melancholy romance.

We read with a good deal of amusement of the romantic and passionate attachment of young Grose, afterwards the historian of Greece, for Harriet Lewis, a young girl, in his letters as being, of course, very lovely; but who, in after days at least, was eccentric, strong featured and masculine.

Among the runaway husbands mentioned in that of Henry Fox, the first Lord Holland, he fell in love with Lady Catherine Lennox, and, being refused by the family, ran away with her. Lady Catherine was a very fully justified the reason of his flight; for he certainly showed that he knew how to make money and to keep it, till Charles Fox, who was cultivated, and the faculty of him, it is said, it was. John Scott, afterwards Lord Eldon, also ran away with his wife at a very early age. The window from which Bessie Burton descended into her lover's arms is still pointed out to every visitor to Newcastle as he pauses before the old home—the home of the wealthy banker, her father, in Sandhill not 20 yards from the great suspension bridge that spans the Tyne. In his old age Lord Eldon used to tell how pitious was his condition. On the third morning after the union our friends were exhausted; he was not a home to go to, and we knew not whether our friends would ever speak to us again. One of his earliest legal cases was in reading, as substitute, the Viceroy's law lecture. "I began," he says, "without knowing a single word of it was in it. It was the statute of young men running away with maidens. Fancy me reading with about 10 boys and young men all gazing at the professor. Such a little audience to one ever had!" The scanty means of the young people had an unpleasant effect. They developed in the professor, a certain parsimony, which hardened into extreme parsimony. She was also very averse to society, for the runaway marriage had her delicately sensitized about society in the beginning, and at last it became distasteful to her. Cautiously enough, their eldest daughter married without the consent of her parents.

The story of Scottie's love and marriage can never be absent from such a compilation of this sort. No man ever had less right to get up, and to be married, than Scottie. No profession, no reputation, no place in the world, and, more than that, he was dependent on his friend Colquhoun, who had been supplying him with money. Little had he to supply him, even with the ring and the money for the wedding. After that, during his life, a long life of anxiety, constant literary labors, earning not much, winning no great fame, but leaving behind him a memory rich in every sort of private virtue and worth. No doubt his wife, both as a bride and during all his life, had much the heaviest part of the daily burden to bear. She bore nobly, and, indeed, a martyr to duty towards her husband and her children, her last days being clouded by mental troubles which caused her to be confined. Her years had, they have married when Edith died. Scottie's own life was not to be long and his latest days were made more painful by mental alienation which continued till he died.

The list of the "unhappily married" is large and it includes William Beckford, the author of "Vathek," who, however, does not seem to have deserved a happy life, and whose enormous fortune and great talents were alike wasted. Lady Blessington, who, being the widow of a penniless officer, married a rich man, Lord Blessington, who, though a great success in his career, and whose wife was kind, he was everything that a gentleman ought to be in such a case to a woman who really loved him; but perhaps his condition of mind was not, after all, happy. Writing to his sister in 1859 he said: "As for love, all my friends who married for love and beauty are either dead or divorced. It is literally the case. I may commit many follies in life, but I never intend to marry for love, which, I am sure, is a guarantee of infidelity." He was not favorably impressed by Mrs. Lewis when he met her the first time.

"I was introduced, by particular desire, to Mrs. Wynn Lewis, a very little woman, a flirt and a rattle; indeed gifted with a volubility I should think unequalled and of which I can convey no idea." Yet he told me she liked me, and I told her I loved her. I answered that "I had no doubt of it." Yet he was to marry her, and to find later society a life of success and of high content at least. On April 13, 1867, when he defeated Mr. Gladstone's amendment to the reform bill, the younger members of the party extemporized a supper at the Carlton and begged him to join them. But, as Lady Beaconsfield was never tired of repeating, "Dix came home to me. And she would add how he ate half the roast pie and drank the whole of the bottle of champagne which she had prepared in anticipation of his triumph. She was truly proud of him; and he was fond of telling her in joke that he had married her for her money, to which she would reply: "Ab, but you had to do over again you would do it for love"—a statement to which he always smilingly assented. Indeed, he never lost an opportunity of eulogizing his wife in public, and on one occasion at a harvest home at Highbury, he spoke of her as "the best wife in England."

RACING BULLDOGS IN INDIA.

They Are Speedy, but Can't Be Taught to Run in Straight Lines.

In India the favorite animals, both for speed and for endurance, are the native bull and the Indian dog. The bull is a very muscular and swift. They are trained to race and run well, not only under the saddle, but in harness. The Indians are fond of racing, and the English are not less so. The English are fond of racing, and the Indians are not less so. The English are fond of racing, and the Indians are not less so.

The animal is guided by a cord through the nose, but the driver places much reliance on whip and voice than on the cord. The Indians are natural gamblers, and will bet their last rupee on the result of a race, taking much interest in it. The English, on the other hand, have been known to wager his liberty and that of his family for an entire year, and sell himself into voluntary slavery as the result of losing a bet. The races are frequently attended by serious accidents, from the fact that, although the bulldogs are trained to great swiftness, it seems almost impossible to teach them to run in a straight line. They will bunch together, and thus frequently smash one or more of the victors.

Exciting as are the bulldog races when the beasts are harnessed and driven by native drivers, they are far more so when the bulldogs are ridden by European soldiers or officers. The chief danger to the chief of the description lies in the falls which are the almost inevitable result of an attempt to ride these awkward animals.—St. Louis Globe Democrat.

Proverbs of the Sea.

The sea never gives over.

The ocean is made of small drops.

It is a great way to the bottom of the sea.

It is but a stone's throw to the bottom of the sea.

He that would sail without danger never comes on the main sea.

He sets his sail to every wind.

Hoist your sail when the wind is fair.

He who goes to sea must sail or sink.

It is easy to sail with the wind and tide.

A big ship needs deep water.

A mariner must have his eye on the rocks and sail as well as the North Star.

He that will not sail till all dangers are over will never put out to sea.

He that will not sail till he have fair wind will lose many a voyage.

Many a grain of sand will sink a ship.

Better lose an anchor than a ship.

With little wind the vessel is soon lost.

He who can steer need not row.

The first in the boat can choose his air.

It goes the best without a man.

To have an ear in every man's barge.

Good riding at two anchors may have told.

Do not trust all in the same boat.

To many sailors will sink a ship.

Ships fear fire more than water.

According to recent figures the people of this country are longer lived than those of Europe. In this country 18 persons out of every 1,000 die each year; in England the average is 30 and in Germany 35.

The owners of a traveling show, which included in its animals a number of bears, have been arrested at Trenton, N. J., on charges of murdering a tramp and throwing his body to the bears, who devoured it.

A painter arrested in Litchfield, Conn., while at work walked along quietly for a few minutes, when he suddenly turned and dashed his paint brush into the sheriff's eyes. He then escaped.

A prize of $100 was offered by the Washington Post to the person guessing nearest the number of the city of New York. To say, three persons hit exactly the number, 229,790. They have agreed to divide the money.

The United States government commissioner of patents estimates that from six to seven-eighths of the entire manufacturing capital of the United States, or six thousand millions of dollars, is directly or indirectly based upon patents.

An extraordinary feat in telephoning was recently accomplished between St. Petersburg and Boulogne, a distance of 5,000 miles; conversation was kept up, notwithstanding a rather high induction. The engineers propose to converse by telephone over a distance of 4,000 miles.

A committee of learned professors, appointed for the purpose, have decided that the centennial jubilee of the city of Odessa in the year 1914 should be held on May 27 (June 9), the day on which Catherine II. issued the ukas that "the city of Odessa be established."

Robert Guyton, twenty-three years old, of Milwaukee, didn't let his advanced age deter him last week from diving into a river at Mount Clemens, Mich., and rescuing the lad who was drowning. It is said that he was the only person of the crowd on the bank watching the boy drown who didn't lose his head.

The chief of police of Moscow has issued orders that those who sell papers or other printed matter in the streets, shall not be allowed to pursue their vocation if they are not dressed in proper uniform, or if they do not appear clean shaven. From the date of this order two weeks was allowed the vendors of the newspapers to get their uniforms into proper shape.

A trick often seen on St. Charles Avenue, New Orleans, is a little boy riding a bicycle with his black-and-tan dog standing behind him. The dog holds up by resting his front paws on the handlebars, and the boy has to have no fear, no matter how rapidly they travel. The Pecos says that the other day the dog grew weary of the sport before the boy could get any ado, and he tucked his head down on the boy's shoulder and went to sleep.

The process known as plating, which consists of adding sulphate of potassium to a thin wine in order to give it body, was thoroughly debated by the French chamber. Two grammes of this substance may now, by the law of France, be added to a litre of wine. It was formerly by 170 centes to 53. German perfumers, being from Italy and Switzerland, permit the same quantity as France.

A butler in London brought an action against his former employer for the libel said to be in reply to an inquiry about the butler's fidelity, which said: "He discharged John Walsh for insolence." In consequence of his lost a subsequent engagement. The insolence was not denied. The judge said that it was for the plaintiff to show malicious representation on defendant's part, and the jury gave a verdict for the latter.

Since the snow has melted and the pass-ways from Turkey opened, the border lands of the district of Kars are troubled with bands of Turkish robbers. Such a band, of sixteen men, on the 10th inst., passed through the district and threw themselves upon the peasants and some remained outside to prevent the people sending notice to the post of Cosackia in the neighborhood. But by some chance the Cosackia became aware of the attack and hastened to the rescue. A lively fusillade took place between the robbers and the Cosackia. Three of the latter were killed and one was captured, the rest escaped. One of the Cosackia was killed and two wounded; but the property of the village was saved.

A queer old chap turns up about Upton square, New York, these days about 5 o'clock in the morning with a broom and a pan. In the neighborhood he has the privilege of sweeping. No public place in the city are cleaned more thoroughly than they are at his expense. The work costs the proprietors nothing and it is a necessary feature of the old chap's business that he should be painstaking. From out his sweepings he picks up every cork and every wadman he empties with extreme care, looking all the time for coins. It is said that on the average he makes a fair profit of from silver thus collected up, but his income is realized from the corks. Such of these as are not broken he whittles down to a size that will fit the hole in the cork used by druggists. He sells these at prices which make it profitable to the druggists, and the refuse, the shavings and broken bits, disposed of to men who pack bottles for transportation.

this extract from the scientific papers of Great Britain and Europe:

The four greatest medical centres of the world are London, Paris, Berlin and Vienna. These cities have immense hospitals teeming with suffering humanity. Crowds of students through the wards studying under the supervision of the most renowned physicians of the world teach and practice here, and the institutions are storeshouses of medical knowledge and experience. With a view of making this knowledge available to the people, the Hospital Remedy Co. at great expense secured the prescriptions of these hospitals, prepared the specifics, and although it would cost from $25 to $100 to secure the attention of their distinguished originators, yet in this way their prepared specifics are offered at the price of the quack patent medicines that flood the market and absurdly claim to cure every ill from a single bottle.

This is the critical time of the year as far as material and other fever are concerned.
People cannot be too careful of the water
they drink, and also of the sanitary condition of their premises. The board of health inspectors could find a lot of inspectors very beneficial to the community. There are many nuisances which are simply pest spots.

The following candidates in the Belleville district were awarded teachers' certificates
at the recent examinations: District No.
49. Primary—E. Bateman, M. Cocks, E.

Hendriks, J. Hendriks, L. Hendriks, L.
Mott, V. Moyne, E. Platt, E. Ruff, J.

Mr. Wm. Dawes, of New York, who has been visiting here during the past two weeks, has evidently lost none of his old skill as a fisherman. He went down to Hay Bay one day last week and succeeded in catching a fine mackinaw, the largest caught there this season. Mr. Dawes will visit his brother at Bradford before returning to New York.

Mr. Ezra Pringle and family have returned from their excursion to Deseronto, where

The tide of travel from Toronto down
the lake, Bay of Quinte and St. Lawrence to Montreal, Quebec and the Saguenay canal, which has been so long in coming,
is really first-class line of steamers on this important route. The Royal Mail Line of Steamers, which are fairly good, is not equal to the demand, as the boats are slow and far behind the age in their arrangements for travel. What is wanted is a number of boats like those which ply
from Cleveland to the upper lake ports.

Police Court.
On Monday evening Chief Gwynon arrested Hugh Trainor for drunken and disorderly conduct. He appeared next day before the magistrate who fined him $1 and costs, or $3 in all, to be paid by the 25th, failing which ten days in jail.

Successful Candidates.
The following is the list of the candidates who wrote at Deseronto who have been awarded teachers' certificates at the recent examinations: Primary—Nellie Bowen, Edith Cooke, Edith Demorest, Theodore Denison, A. Kieran and Mahala Vance; Junior—Jennie McFarlane, Jessie McNeill and J. Seymour.
The corresponding first and second class certificates respectively.

Thanks.
At a recent meeting of Victoria Lodge,
No. 9, P. A. B. U., on motion of Bro. Wm.
Bell, a hearty vote was given for an adviser to Rev. R. J. Craig, M. A., for his admirable sermon preached to the members of the lodge on Sunday evening, Aug. 10th.

A hearty resolution was also carried conveying to the Citizens' Band of Deseronto the thanks of the society for the admirable manner in which that organization had performed its services at the Belleville demonstration.

Oddfellows' Meeting.
Mr. James Scrimshaw is a delegate from Deseronto Lodge, No. 102, at the meeting of the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., of Ontario which is in session this week at Toronto.
The Grand Master reported steady and satisfactory advancement. The order has now in this province 17,500 members.
During the past four years $2,000,000 has been expended in relief. There were 84 deaths
last year, a larger number than usual, owing, no doubt, to the gripple. The net increase in membership last year was 494.
The receipts of the Grand Lodge for the year were $9,845, and the expenditures $9,840.

Attempted Suicide.
Milton Morey, a farmer living near Harrowsmith, tried to kill himself on Wednesday morning. He had been drinking heavily at the celebration in the village on Tuesday, and being engaged at his wife and other law, as the latter would not allow Morey's wife to go home with him, he said he would shoot himself. He loaded his gun with shot and a heavy charge of powder and asked his son Fred, aged 12 years, to shoot him but the lad refused. Morey then went to the front of the house, and getting the muzzle of the gun under his chin pulled the trigger. His son heard the shot and went to the place and was horrified to see his father covered with blood. Dr. Day and Dr. Dupuis were summoned and found that the wretched man had shot off his chin and both jaws were bleeding through a hole in his throat.
He had also attempted to cut his wrist and bleed himself to death but the knife was too dull to cut the artery. Dr.
Dupuis took away the two sides of the jaw and sewed the flesh together and there are hopes that he may survive. The doctors think he will live. He has only two teeth on each side of his mouth.

It is reported that the C. P. R. Company has increased the controlling stock of the Wabash.

ST. MARK'S CHURCH NOTES.

The assistant (Rev. H. B. Patton) preached at both services last Sunday—in the morning on "Divine Worship" from Psalm 106, 6, and in the evening on "The Form and Power" from II Tim. III. 5.

Mr. Patton left home on Tuesday last for Winnipeg, and expects to be absent about three weeks.

The Rector, Rural Dean Stanton, hopes to receive the assistance of Rev. Mr. Forneri next Sunday.

A DISGUSTING HABIT.

DEAR TEACHERS.—Is it not singular that in the exercise of their undoubted right to chew whatever loathsome thing they please, some of our tobacco chewers invade upon the comfort of others? And that even in the church, while worshipping God, such persons have a quid in their mouth, and, in utter violation of all decency, expectorate freely during the service. This was done in the Presbyterian Church last Sabbath evening, as the carpet next morning too plainly showed.
What a violation of the place and time!
What a reflection upon their own personal cleanliness! Can such persons be persuaded to leave their tobacco in the mysterious substance it is, outside of our churches? This is much to be desired.
If not, if they are such slaves to the disorderly habit, let them go to the dentist or suffer under tortures, then we would ask them in the frame of a long-suffering community to stay outside of our churches.
Encouraged.

CHAPTER I

"Six months? Well, time does fly."
"That's because time's money, I suppose."
"Ah, you're learning that, are you? It's useful what six months will do! If they've ought you to be a man of business, Master Guy Darwent, they ought to do even this thing here."
"What thing—where?"
"Look there!"
"I see a map," said Guy.
"See a map, indeed! No, my lad; this is a map—this is the standard of the resurrection of Marchgrave. Th. is what I've been working and waiting for; and now the time's come. . . . Those confounded docks at

"No. They have to make their friends in England. They are staying just for the present in London, at the Clarence, while they are looking around."

"Then look here. Your young woman must be married from my house—Kate's house, I think that will do. And meanwhile she shall come on a visit. You mustn't waste your week by running up to town three days a week, and writing long letters the other four."

Guy sprang up with glistening eyes.

"How can I thank you? What can I say?" cried, holding out his hand.

ates. The shells usually sold to tourists are of Mexican origin. The most important marine pearl fishery on the American continent is that of Lower California. Pearls have been sent to the New York market from nearly every state. Some of the earliest American pearls came from Ohio. Large and valuable U. S. pearls have been obtained in New Jersey. Finely colored pearls have been found in Wisconsin. Now Kentucky, Tennessee and Texas are the principal pearl producing states. The foregoing interesting facts are from Mr. George F. Kunz's recent and entertaining work on "Gems and Precious Stones of North America."

SOME PRACTICAL HINTS ON THE USE

A great advantage is that these colors can be freely mixed, and that they change very little in firing, so that one is enabled to approximate the shade desired more nearly than in the glazed colors. Gold can also be applied to the wax colors before firing, provided the painting is thoroughly dry. Frequent washing will not affect the tint, and they withstand soil and dust more twenty feet ahead. He did not realize the danger until he came to the trestle. The men were horror-stricken and expected to be thrown from the track and perhaps killed. The intelligent dog knew the danger instantly. He flattened itself between the ties, and the car passed safely over without ruffling a hair. It was the most remarkable piece of intelligence ever exhibited by a dumb animal. It could not go forward; to stand still was death to the dog as well as men. It was to late to jump, so the intelligent animal crouched, and saved its own life as well as the men on the car.

Within the last month I have interesting experiment with a fowl. Some chickens were sent me for hatching purposes, and I was told that the birds were (and no incubator) I determined to set one of my hens on these eggs and keep her there until the force majeure would force the eggs to hatch. When I returned I found them to be, to them with the uncertain hope of a hen becoming broody might have been fatal to her. I was told that she had been sitting on and set my hen upon those eggs. She was in full lay at the time, and remained so throughout the three weeks. I was told that she was laying according to wont, two out of three days. Those who understand poultry will appreciate the fact that no hen will do this, having become broody, until she has laid at least one or two before being set on eggs. I have had hens lay once or even twice.

Marking the eggs, as set upon, I was told that she was contributing to the eggs by laying. The first day I placed her on the eggs it took me half an hour to bring her into a hypnetic condition; but each succeeding day it took me less time, and by the end, I was able to sooth her to drowsy placidity in much less time; also there were no eggs laid.

That I go to her more than once in a day, she being in a restless, excited state, trying to get off the nest. The result has been that she has laid only one egg, and four out of seven of these eggs have hatched, and are healthy, happy little chickens. I might I can still influence their mother to her detriment, but I have not time to do so. I take no notice of them. E. T. Chaplin.

Saved by a Dog's Presence Mind.

A dreadful accident to six men on a handcar near East Helena a short time ago was only averted by the intelligence of a dog. A large Newfoundland dog was in the car, and seeing the men on their first trip down the road, and like all dogs it was ambitious to keep up with them. He was not a very intelligent dog, and when the men were returning from work the dog took the lead and there was a spirited race. The animal was only a short distance ahead of the men, and he was not far from the rear, kept going at a great speed.

The men never thought of danger till the dog disappeared. He came suddenly upon a long trestle with the men on it, and twenty feet ahead. He did not realize the danger until he came to the trestle. The men were on the trestle, and he was to be blown off from the track and perhaps killed. The intelligent dog knew the danger instantly. He dashed first between the ties, and the car was not far from the rear. The dog was the most remarkable piece of intelligence ever exhibited by a dumb animal. It could not speak, and it was still death to the dog as well as man. The dog was the intelligent animal crouched, and saved its own life as well as the men on the car.

placed in draughty windows. Consumption is helped on by the birds being indiscriminately fed on all sorts of things that are unsuitable as food. Birds are very fond of luxuries, and the more you give them the more they will eat. When a bird is going into a consumption it is always eating, and I pointed to one and said: "He is in a consumption, and he will be like a ball of yarn to-morrow—all ruffed out. Phoebe

LOCAL ITEMS.

Rural schools re-opened on Monday.
Mr. Frank Barnhart has purchased a handsome new barn.
There are now 12 prisoners in the county jail, 10 men and 2 women.
Mr. E. W. Rathbun left on Tuesday on a business visit to New York.

The streets committee have been putting stone on Thomas and other streets.

Yesterday, for the first time, Division court was held in Deseronto on a Thursday.
Mr. Nicholson, of the Belleville Ontario, gave a friendly call on Friday, on his way to Napanee.

A spar will be placed in the railway track from the drydocks branch to the line house near the stables.

There was a very large market on Tuesday and the farmers report large sales of garden and other produce.

Mr. J. Adams has removed to the house on Centre street lately occupied by Mrs. Breen, dressmaker.

The ship Sovereign and other craft are engaged transporting sand from the Fredericksburg shore to Deseronto for the Rathbun Company.

The friends of James McGill, auditor of the Rathbun Company, will be pleased to hear that he is convalescing from an attack of typhoid fever.

Mr. Ormiston, the grand master of the I. O. O. F. body in Ontario, is a resident of Deseronto and holds the position of collector of customs.

One of the young men in Wims & Co's shop is practicing diligently at the club exercise preparatory to knocking down prices for the burglar.

Mr. Yeomans has made a great success of the law at the General Offices. He has also set out some beds of geraniums and foliage plants. These improvements are much admired by visitors to town.

The prospects for good prices for hops are improving. It is estimated that there will be a shortage of 400,000 cwt. in the English crop, and this, it is believed, will exert an important influence on the prices later on.

It is safe, at this time of year especially, to boil all water intended for drinking and then to cool it, and, if desired to restore some of the evaporated air to it by pouring it several times from one pitcher to another.

Apple dealers are paying 25¢ per barrel for the Duchess variety of apples and supply the barrel and pack the fruit. American buyers are in Prince Edward County and say that the crop in New York state is very poor.

We had a kind letter the other day from Mr. Pooler formerly of this office. He is foreman in the press department of the government bureau of printing. He invites the editor up to inspect that establishment.

Commissioner Marrigan has had men busy grading Stanley at, so-called latter the great Stanley, the African explorer, and not busy the ornamental official who costs this country 100,000 a year for doing little or nothing.

Mr. J. L. Ferguson the other day made a fearful onslaught on the rats in his barn and in a few minutes killed fifteen of the vermin. Shortly afterwards he was seen proceeding with them on his truck in the direction of the cemetery.

The new sunlight in the Church of the Redeemer is a pronounced success diffusing a splendid light. There were general expressions of satisfaction last Sunday by the different churches recently effected by the Board of Managers.

The Intelligencer states that in consequence of the long continued ill health of Mr. Chas. Wilkins, lately overseer, the appointment of an overseer has become a matter of necessity, and that Mr. H. Corby, M. P., has asked that an appointment be made.

"The widest plank on earth" is on exhibition at the railway depot in this city. It was cut at the Elk River mill, and is sixteen feet in width. It will be among the Humboldt exhibits at the World's Fair in Chicago.

The conference of Anglican delegates from the provincial synods and dioceses of the Dominion finished their labours at Winnipeg on Saturday and adopted a report recommending the constitution of the Church of England in British North America.

Mr. J. P. Earney, of this office, left last Saturday for Brampton to take the position of foreman in the office of the Conservator. It is surprising the number of foremen who have graduated from The Tribune office which seems to be a normal school for printers.

The yacht Norah, owned by John Bell, Q.C., has been taken up on the morning railway here and has undergone repairs and complete overhauling preparatory to the fall regatta. Mr. Bell has accepted a challenge for a thirty mile race with the yacht White Wings on the 30th of August for the Fisher cup.

The guards and keepers are now given their dinner in the Kingston penitentiary. In future the prisoners will not be allowed to leave the institution during dinner hour. This precaution is taken in order to be prepared for a revolt should it take place while the convicts are in the dining hall.

Five out of the six members of the business and editorial staff of the Kingston News have resigned. H. Redmond has taken a position in Montreal. Orin takes an agency. J. Macdonald becomes secretary of the school board. W. Givens goes west and J. Marshall resigns because of ill health.

A simple remedy for round shoulders, by which so many young ladies are afflicted, is to stand facing a corner of the room, and with hands extended on the wall in either direction, and the feet placed to touch the body slowly toward the corner. This exercise, faithfully repeated every morning, will cure the ailment beautifully.

It is now generally conceded that the Equal Rights party is practically a thing of the past. The defeat of the party in the city of Toronto and the county of Carleton. The defeat of the Liberal Unionist Government in the House of Commons of the United States and the Equal Rights and Third parties in Canada, would seem to indicate that the people of Anglo-Saxon countries consider two great parties a political necessity and sufficient for all practical purposes.

Henry George, who lately reached England after a trip to Australia, says that the imperial federation movement is practically dead in the Australian colonies. It has been dead in Canada for some time, the Province of Quebec, and the movement in Ontario being chiefly confined to some fellows in Toronto who in this matter are in the lead.

One of the leaders of the movement in this province has joined the exodus and settled down in the United States.

The Murray Canal.

Over 600 hundred vessels of all classes have already passed through the Murray canal this season. There is no doubt that the canal will become a great highway for commerce and that Trent, Deseronto and other towns along the bay will reap great benefits by its construction.

A Two of Yachts.

A very pretty sight was witnessed here on Wednesday forenoon when the tug Emma Munson, of the Rathbun Company, passed down the bay with twelve handsome yachts in tow. They came from Colborne, where they had been participating in the regatta and had passed through the Murray canal. They were on their way to Kingston where a regatta is in progress.

Christened on the Steamer Hero.

On Monday, while the steamer Hero was on her way from the Islands to Kingston with an excursion party from Bay of Quinte ports, an unusual incident occurred. A child, daughter of Mr. & Mrs. Richardson, of Stratton, was christened by Rev. F. Frederick, who was on board. The water of sprinkling the infant with the blue water of Lawrence and pronouncing her name Eva Jane Richardson, which was blown and the passengers gave a hearty cheer. The event occurred while the boat was passing the foot of Wolfe Island.

Changes of Quarters.

Mr. Wm. Stoddart, in his advertisement in another column, directs the attention of the public to the fact that he has moved his tailoring and clothing store to the Oliver Block, Main street. He has fitted it up in city style and laid in a large stock of personally selected and newly imported cloths for the fall and winter trade. Ladies will observe that he is prepared to make up garments in the latest London styles. Persons at a distance can have samples of cloths sent and directions for self-measurement forwarded by writing for the same. Mr. Stoddart will be glad to show his goods to all who call, feeling confident of his ability to please all tastes.

Does Not Apply.

The communication of "Episcopa" in reference to tobacco spitting in the Presby. terian Church on the evening of Sunday 10th inst., has been the cause of some hard feeling, as several of the "Prentice Boys" were whipped at that Church on that day. Some have been taunted by some thoughtless people with having the offender in their ranks. It is almost needless to state that such was not the case. Those who are authorized to state that Mr. Joseph Carwell, sexton of the Church, states that the ill-mannered individual who expectorated so freely did not sit in the body of the church which was occupied by the brethren of Victoria Lodge, but on one of the side seats, and the taunts, therefore, do not apply to the "Prentice Boys."

To The Public.

By special request Dr. Jebb, the renowned optical specialist, (formerly of New York), and who has for the past six weeks been in Belleville, is in Deseronto at Mr. Egan's Drug Store and will remain for a few days only. Dr. Jebb is the only optician in Canada who makes a specialty of grinding the glass to fit the eye. Those who are afflicted with weak eyes, poor sight, granulated and inflamed lids, headache over and back of the eye, should consult him. Read his circular and what others say of him. Dr. Jebb has the highest references that can be obtained in Canada and the United States, (see circulars). Examination of the eyes and sight tested free of charge. We highly recommend him. Don't miss this rare opportunity.

Herby Picking.

Mr. David Smith, the huckleberry king, made another trip during the past week to the Bald mountains and was home with 55 pairs of huckleberries. He left again on Wednesday on another cruise, this time for blackberries. He never saw the berries so plentiful or good as they are this year in Kaladar. At Kaladar station, agents for Toronto and Kingston firms are buying up all berries that are secure and shipping them daily to different points. A large trade has developed and hundreds of pickers have been busy in that region gathering the wild fruit. As a result much ready money is placed in circulation which is much needed. This trade is destined to reach its maximum this year. The demand being very great. Mr. Smith reports very heavy frosts at Kaladar on the 16th and 17th; cucumbers, melons, corn, etc., were turned black, but fortunately the frost did not cover a very extensive area of country.

Crops in Manitoba.

The temperature dropped in various parts of Manitoba to 33° during the past week, but it is gratifying to report that no damage was done to the crops by frost, and that there is reason to believe that the harvest will be the best in the history of the country. The government bulletin intimates an average wheat yield of 24.6 bushels per acre. The best district this year is the northwestern portion of the province, where 30 bushels an acre are looked for. The estimate of the grain destroyed by the hailstorm of August 2 is: Wheat, 173,140 bushels; oats, 240,482; barley, 20,968 bushels. The average yield of barley over the province is 34.3 bushels; and of oats 44 bushels. This in both cases is double of last year's figures. It is estimated that there will be 21,000,000 bushels of grain. Making the usual allowance for western exuberance of spirits, this would leave an actual crop of about 16,000,000 bushels. This is splendid and must prove of great benefit to the west.

The Public School.

The Deseronto public school re-opens for the fall term on Monday, when it is hoped that all the pupils will be in attendance ready for work. Parents will confer a very great favour on the school board and teachers by insisting on punctual attendance as classes are greatly impeded in their work by children's irregular intervals after the school re-opens. Therefore, let there be no tardy delinquents on Monday morning. The only change in the staff has been caused by the retirement of Miss Porter; the board have filled this vacancy by the employment of Miss T. M. Robertson, of Brant, who recently gained a second class professional certificate with honours at the Ottawa normal school. The board have taken advantage of the vacation to make several changes, repairs and improvements in the building. The stores have been taken down and the hope of a new pipe, chimney, etc., thoroughly cleaned. Seats have been repaired and those in the Principals' and Miss Porter's former room interchanged, and two janitors have been placed between the Principals' and other rooms for ventilation. A new sidewalk has been laid down from the church front to the street improved. With teachers and scholars thoroughly recuperated by the vacation, and the pupils in the best of health, the part of pupils, great things will reasonably be expected during the coming fall and winter terms.

Wonderful Stories are going around about the Great Bargains at P. SLAVEN & CO'S. Great Clearing Sale

AND YET "THE HALF HAS NOT BEEN TOLD."

It is hard to believe that a merchant will sell 8 and 10 cent Goods for 2 cents a yard; 20 and 25 cent Goods for 10 cents a yard, and other Goods in proportion, and yet this is what we are doing every day.

People must come to the store and see the Goods and prices before they can realize the truth of what we say; and yet the slaughter goes on every day and fresh piles of goods and money are offered up at the altar of mammon.

The people are made happy by getting bargains and we are made happy by getting the money to meet our notes. And so the money is kept in circulation and the world is kept moving. We have done something desperate this week in the Hosiery department.

Misses' Black Silk Hose at 90c. are reduced to 65c.; 45c. goods were reduced to 33 cents, and so on.

Ladies' cold Lisle Hose at 60 cents are reduced to 40c. Ladies Grey Cashmere Hose at 80c. a pair are reduced to 45c. a pair.

Girls Colored Lisle Hose at 50 cents are reduced to 30 cents; 40c. Hose are reduced to 25 cents and so on.

Table and Piano Covers have suffered. Raw Silk Table Covers at $4.50 are reduced to 3.00; smaller ones with fringe that were 1.75 are reduced to 1.00; 1.25 clothes are reduced to 80c. and 60c. ones reduced to 45c.

Cloth Tables Covers embroidered with Chenille at 4.50 are reduced to 3.61; larger ones at 5.50 reduced to 4.00. Large Cloth Piano Covers embroidered with silk that were 4.50 are reduced to 2.35, and our very best marked 6.50 are reduced now to 4.50.

We only mention a few of the reductions to give an idea of the bargains that we offer. Come and see them all.

IN REGARD TO SUNSTROKE.

The Things to be Done to Avoid It, or When It Occurs.

Sunstroke is one of the afflictions to which humanity is liable in summer during the hottest of the weather. Heat and moisture together seem to be the conditions most favorable to its occurrence, for moisture in warm air prevents the radiation of heat from the body, and thermal fever or sunstroke, as it is called, is probably an over-heating of the blood, producing chemical or fermentative changes in it which are inimical to health and even to life. When, therefore, during the heated term, who has been exposed to the sun's heated rays in a humid atmosphere begins to suffer from headache, giddiness, nausea, and disturbance of sight, accompanied with sudden and great prostration of the physical forces, sunstroke is probably imminent.

If such a one is wise, he will, when the symptoms above given manifest themselves, immediately seek a cool place and make use of some simple restoratives, such as aromatic ammonia, &c., and he may avoid further trouble, but if he persists with his business, he will doubtless soon become very ill, which illness usually takes the form of heat-exhaustion, or genuine sunstroke, the thermic fever of some writers. Those who are exhausted by the heat have a cool, moist skin, a rapid, weak pulse and respiration movement, and the pupil of the eye is dilated. In fact, the symptoms are those of collapse. These patients will probably recover promptly, provided which may be hastened by the use of a tonic and restorative treatment.

Those who suffer from heat apoplexy frequently become unconscious at the outset. The heart and breathing apparatus are not markedly disturbed and the pupil may be normal, but unconsciousness deepens and the case runs on to a fatal termination. An artery has been broken in the brain, and the poured-out blood pressing on the nerve centres, brings about the fatal event. A treatment calculated to draw the blood from the brain to the extremities, hot foot baths, bleedings, &c., promise to be the most useful in such cases. The thermic fever patient is unconscious and convulsed, and his body temperature may be 108 degrees Fahrenheit—that is, about four degrees above normal. The skin of this patient feels as though it would burn your hand when laid thereon. In this case the thorough and prompt use of ice and cold water to the body generally will be in order. Medical advice and assistance should be promptly had in either of the two cases last referred to. Complete recovery from sunstroke is rare, the brain being permanently crippled or affected. Residence in the cold climate, it is said, affords most hope for such patient.—Boston Herald.

Putting Children to Bed.

The mother who puts the timid child to bed, and leaves him to his conjuring, carols and indifferent disbelieving, or bent on overcoming the mischief, is doing him a wrong something that one would think of small worth to her—not only his nervous fibre, but his love of herself; and the day will come when fate will have its revenge on her in his own indifference to her, and she will recognize it, even if he behave ill all outward prospects like a dutiful son, is her part to examine the matter; to reason with the child, to comfort him, to see how far it is possible with him to subdue the fear, and to stay with him himself, so that he may hear the cheerful down-stairs voices, the hum of life, not to be shut into his tomb, as the unfortunated thought of his desperate little mind makes it; she can leave a lamp on the hearth, and so let there be some light to dispel his fancies and to keep back the dark and unpleasant vision. She may regard it as trifling, but to him it is tremendous and if she is wise either in mother love or human kindness she will not let the imagination and sensitive child suffer more than it must, remembering that that temperament, if it has more to enjoy through life than others, has also much more to suffer. When a few nights have failed to bring calm to the little being out of the experience, and the last going to bed alone is as bad as the first, and all threats have only made the matter worse, and all reasoning has produced no good result, when he has tried to conquer, and the effort has left him from bling as violently as if he has an ague—then something not to be overcome by harsh or rough or peremptory measures, and the mother should see to it that this child has some active physical exercises just before going to bed that will make his little body glad of rest, and she would best lie down beside him, or find some work that she can do up stairs till he falls asleep, in order to afford him the comfort of companionship and the sense of her embracing love, and soothe his frightful nerves to repose instead of rousing them to action. These nerves would never have been irritable if he had not insisted on her own way too long in the beginning, if she had given them no chance to get on fire and then to go on exciting themselves. If she had put the child to bed alone from the very outset of his career, so that it was the natural order of things from the start, he had had the habit established of quiet sleep and absence of fear from the first, in ninety nine cases out of a hundred there would never have been any trouble of the sort. But if through any idiosyncrasy of the child or reminiscence of her own, the fear has come upon him, she will never in all the years of his life have greater love outpoured upon her than that child will give her who sees her hovering over her pillow, moving about his room, or feels her pressure on the bed beside him till the drowsy warmth steals over and wraps senses and imagination and all together, and lets her off again to the duties that must be done, and the pleasures that are less pleasant than the love he gives her in return.—Harper's Bazar.

They Learned Something.

Three men passed by on Monro avenue yesterday. All were sweating and mopping. It was hot—awful hot. "I've got to have a glass of beer to cool off on," remarked one. "You fellows have some!" "You bet!" promptly replied one. "Excuse me," said the other, who was a doctor. "Now, then, let me show you something. You, Tom, let me feel your pulse. Now, you, Henry. Now, then, Tom, get you boys!"

All three entered a saloon. While Tom was drinking a beer the doctor seated Henry in a chair and gave him a fan. At the end of five minutes Tom joined them, saying: "Ah, but that touches the spot! I feel cooler." "Do you?" queried the doctor. "You pulse has increased just eight beats to the minute, while Henry's decreased six, making a difference of fourteen in his favor. Wait a bit." It wasn't over three minutes before Henry laid down the fan, feeling cool enough, while Tom pulled out his handkerchief and said: "For heaven's sake, let us get out of this or I shall rot!" "There's the fact I want to make out," said the doctor. "You are far warmer than before, while Henry's decreased six, making a difference of fourteen in his favor. Wait a bit." Our friend here has lost his thirst and is cool enough for a foot race.—Detroit Free Press.

ODD BITS OF LIFE.

Montagu Williams, in his "Leaves of a Life," tells an amusing anecdote to illustrate the singular method by which, occasionally, an English jury secures the unanimity necessary to a verdict. It need hardly be said, says the Youth's Companion, that nothing of the kind could possibly happen in the United States. In this country men do not serve on juries at their own pleasure, but when they are drawn as jurors, and one who is prejudiced is not allowed to serve, but the author quoted is a high authority on the English practice.

A man named Watkins was charged with being the ringleader in a riot during a parliamentary election. He was a strong conservative and a certain outlier of the liberal party had been heard to declare that he would get on the jury and then have a leg cut off rather than acquit Watkins. When the trial began the butcher was found to be one of the jury-men.

Watkins counsel stated to the court the butcher's remark and then said: "The gentleman will see the impropriety of remaining in the jury-box, and will at once retire."

"I shan't budge an inch," answered the butcher, bracing himself in his seat. "I never said what has been reported, and if I had said it I should stand on my rights as an Englishman. I've a right to serve on the jury, and on the jury I serve!"

The judge declined to interfere, but simply said: "We must rely upon this gentleman's good sense and the obligation he attaches to an oath."

The case lasted two days, and the evidence was very conflicting. Some witnesses swore that Watkins mounted on a white horse, led the rioters. Other witnesses swore that he was in another part of the borough when the disturbances took place. At six o'clock the second day the jury retired. At 10 o'clock the judge sent a messenger to ask if they had agreed. They came into court and stated that there was little likelihood of their being able to agree upon a verdict. The judge informed them that he should like them to keep up for the night.

At 4 o'clock in the morning news was sent to judge and counsel that the jury had agreed. The court was opened and while the names of the jury were read over only eleven answered. "One jurymen has not responded to his name," remarked the judge. "It was the butcher; his name was called a second time and a feeble voice answered 'Here.'"

COUNTERFEIT COIN.

A new counterfeit ten cent piece is in circulation which so closely resembles the genuine that it can easily be passed. It differs from the usual counterfeit in that a genuine silver plating covers the German silver which forms the body of the coin. This gives it a ring very like that of good money, and also does away with the gross feeling by which counterfeiters are detected. The coin is a good deal like the 1887. The milling is not so deep on the counterfeit and the edges are much sharper than those of a genuine dime.

WHAT HE WANTS TO KNOW.

A city clergyman and a small boy had a fine hunt in a Guelph hotel at an early morning hour during the past week. The clergyman was attending grand lodge, and in the silent hours of the night a pair of boots, about four sizes too large, were left at his door. "Since that time he has been enquiring 'Who Dunn it?'" The clergyman, it seems, spent the whole night about five o'clock decided to take a walk. He dressed, stepped outside of his boots, and had to shake himself to get the door of the right cupboard of the room, because the pedal appendages were not his. Finally he called a boy and asked him to find out by the register what the body of the really set down for. The register showed he was all right, but his boots were not. Then the hunt began, and after an hour's search the boots were found outside of the door of the prince of the order, Oromohyathaka. The cleric seized them and left another in their place. At seven o'clock he left for Kingston. He told a friend about his morning toil and added, with a twinkle: "I am afraid many of the brethren will have a lively time when they wake up, for the mixture seems to be very general!" Of course the official organ will thunder about the matter, and the members will be made, "Who Dunn it?"—Whip, Kingston.

A HARD CORNER.

The age of 30 is a hard corner for a woman to turn, and 35 is still harder. She feels that she is fast leaving her youth behind her. But there is a reason why a woman should be faded and pained at 35, or even at 40. The chief cause of the early fading of American women is found in the fact that many of them suffer from some form of female weakness or disease which robs the face of its bloom, draws dark circles about the eyes, makes the complexion sallow, and stamps the face and figure with signs of ill health. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure all these troubles, will bring back the lost bloom, and remove the pains and ailments which make women grow old before their time. Guaranteed to give satisfaction in every case, or price ($1.00) refunded.

A FREAK OF NATURE.

A curious freak of agriculture happened this season on lot 15, con. 3, Sullivan Township about five miles west of this place, which completely eclipses anything we have ever seen during our agricultural experience. A year ago last spring Mr. Wm. Grant sowed a field with bald wheat and seeded it down, from which he reaped an excellent crop of grain, last autumn. The grass seed made a good catch and the grass looked well last spring, but what surprised him was the manner in which it appeared to sprout from the roots of last year's wheat stalks. While the blades did not look like timothy that was accounted for by the supposition that the grass seed had not been sown timely, and it was not until it began to shoot out with heads that it was seen the crop was fall wheat grown from the roots of last year's spring wheat crop. It turned out a splendid crop of fall wheat of the bearded variety—although the crop the first from the same roots the summer before was of the bald variety. The hay was also good, and the combined crops were so heavy that they had to be cut with a mow, and are now safely housed.

ALL MEN.

young, old, or middle-aged, who find themselves nervous, weak and exhausted, who are broken down from excess or overwork, resulting in many of the following symptoms: Mental depression, premature old age, loss of vitality, loss of memory, bad dreams, dimness of sight, palpitation of the heart, emissions, lack of energy, pain in the kidneys, eye lids and elsewhere, lassitude, deposits in the urine, loss of will power, tenderness of the scalp and spine, weak and flabby muscles, desire to sleep, failure to be rested by sleep, constipation, dullness of hearing, loss of force, desire for solitude, excitability of temper, swollen eyes surrounded with lachrymatory crusts, oily looking skin, etc., are all symptoms of nervous debility that lead to insanity and death unless cured. The spring or vital force having lost its tension very function wastes in consequence. Those who through abuse committed in ignorance may be permanently cured. A PRETTY FLUSH LAMBREQUIN.

A very simple yet effective lambrequin is made of a strip of plaid eighteen or twenty inches wide, and long enough to drop twenty inches below the ends of your mantle. Line with cotton flannel, wooly side out, and trim on front and ends with silk fringe about two inches in width. When laid over your mantle the corners will drop gracefully of their own accord, and the effect will be as charming as any could desire. The same lambrequin may be looped at one corner or at the centre and fastened with a bow suit to your own taste. Where it is most needed many people prefer to use a simple plain scarf to protect the wood. The ends are then decorated or fringed as you may prefer.—Exchange.

Deseronto, Aug. 14th, 1890.

One of the large willows in front of the saw factory was broken off by the fierce gale which raged for an hour yesterday afternoon.

The weather during the past week has been cool. Yesterday afternoon there were several heavy showers of rain which were gladly welcomed.

Ottawa despatches announce that the marine department is about to erect range lights at the entrance to the Murray canal and put down buoys. An effort will also be made to connect Trenton directly with the canal by dredging some four hundred yards from the harbor to the canal.

At last our beautiful Bay is beginning to attract the eye of the outside world and steamboat owners who have any regard for the enjoyment and reliability of their passengers are planning how they can arrange their time tables
so as to pass through the Bay of Quinte.
The fine steamer "Ocean" was the last to avail herself of the privilege, and if the magnitude and resonance of her whistle
were any indication she was just as proud
as ever Deserontians were to see her.
We trust before long she too may find it pleasant and profitable to include Deseronto amongst her stopping places between St.
Catharines and Montreal weekly.

Methodist Church.
The subject of discourse, by the Pastor,
next Lord's day, in the Methodist church, will be "The Redeemed in Heaven." At the evening service, a talented lady evangelist of New York City, will give an address.
All seats free, courteous ushers will wait upon visitors.

Deseronto Canadian Shipping.
There is very little doing in Canadian shippards this year, beyond a few repairs.
According to the statistical abstract recently issued by the government, the decrease in Canadian tonnage last year was 49,161 tons representing a value of $1,474, 830. During the past three years the decrease figures up 177,000 tons.

Deseronto High School.
The Deseronto High School will reopen on Monday, Sept. 1st. We are glad to learn that numbers of new applications are coming in from all quarters. It would be well for all those contemplating taking pupil boarders to send their names with particulars as to rates and accommodation to the Secretary of the School Board, Mr.
T. H. Namith.

East Hastings Election.
On Tuesday, Mr. Charles Hudson, Sec. of the township of Tyndal, filed with the Registrar of the Court of Appeal at Osgoode
Hall, Toronto, a cross-petition in the East Hastings election case. He seeks to have it declared that the unsuccessful candidate, N.
M. Vernilyea, should be disqualified for corrupt practices, including bribery, treating and ballot-box stuffing.

Police Court.
Chief Gungy arrested Daniel Haglitz
yesterday for purchasing whiskey for Peter Maricle, Indian, Slash Road. Police Commissioner McCullough after trial sentenced Haglitz to pay a fine of $30 and costs and also to spend one month in Belleville jail. Maricle was discharged. The Commissioner informed Haglitz that if he appeared before him again he would sentence him to a much longer term. Mr. Bedford appeared for the Indian department.

Milk Shimmers.
Will some patrons of factories never learn honesty? The strict system of milk inspection is doing much good, yet it is to be regretted that the evil of skimming and watering milk still remains to some extent,
and it behooves the Dairyman's Association to stamp it out without mercy. The inspector of the Peterborough District yesterday reported fourteen skimmers in one factory, nine in another and still seven in another. A fine of fifty dollars each will have a salutary effect.

Won by Hard Work.
Mr. T. C. Dodge, of 372 Wellesley Street, Toronto, a fourth-year undergraduate of Toronto University, won The Canadian Queen's "Free Trip to Europe" by making over eleven hundred words from letters contained in the name of the magazine.
Mr. Dodge worked over seventy hours to accomplish the task. He says by the "Parade," September 3rd, and will be aboard the ship on the 10th day of the month.
The Queen will soon announce another "Free Trip to Europe" word contest, with $200
for expenses.

Confagration at Thousand Island Park.
Early yesterday morning the Thousand Island Park hotel was consumed by the ground
together with six cottages, stores,
pavilion, butcher shop, bakery, gas house, chapel and barn. The fire is supposed to have originated in the bakery. All the boarders escaped, losing, however, their wearing apparel and jewelry. The laundress was supposed to have perished in the flames,
but was afterwards found to have been badly
but not fatally burned. The hotel cost $85,000, and was insured for $50,000. All the cottages were insured.

Good Fishing.
There is now splendid fishing in all parts of the bay and good catches are reported on every side. Rev. R. J. Craig and Councilor Geddes state that the other day they obtained their record. Messrs. G. A. Brown and C. A. Millener caught 55 lbs. of bass in a few hours near the lighthouse. Master Fred Richardson captured a 34 lbs. bass
although he broke his pole in the operation.
Mr. C. E. Hubbs, of the Deseronto Flour
Mills, has eclipsed all records of the season
thus far in this section. He went out at 5:30 o'clock on Tuesday morning and at 6:30 returned with 17 splendid bass weighing about 40 lbs. On Friday morning he killed 21 bass in the same time. The Flour Mill will not yield the championship to any establishment in Deseronto.

Epworth League.
A branch of the Epworth League, in connection with the Deseronto Methodist Church, was instituted, under charter from Canadian Headquarters, Toronto, on Monday evening last. The organization has rapidly superseding all other Young People's Associations in connection with the evangelical churches of Canada and the United States, and is under the special sanction of the general Conference of the Methodist Church in Canada. The young people after a brief session of the mode of its operation, entered heartily into the matter and elected the following officers: for the current year, vice-President, W. W.
McGrath; 1st Vice-President, Department of Christian work, Mrs. J. J. Rice; 2nd Vice-President, social and entertainment department, G. Fred Huff; 3rd Vice-Pres., department of correspondence, Mr. S.
Wenden; 4th Vice-Pres., department of finance, Miss Louise Bogart; Secretary, Miss A. Scott; Treasurer, Mr. J. McClellan; Honorary Pres., Rev. J. J. Rice. The formal sanction of the officers elected by the G. U. Board is all that is now wanting to render the organization complete when it will at once proceed to business.

The Ella Ross carried a large excursion
from Picton to Belleville on Wednesday.
Chief Gungy came into possession of a nice stretcher the other day without much cost or trouble to himself.

A special meeting of Court Deseronto, I.
O. F., will be held at their Chambers on Wednesday evening, 27th inst.

Over fifty new subscribers added to our list during the past week ought to spur on our business man to increased advertising in THE TRIBUNE.

Rev. J. J. Rice and W. R. Aylesworth, Evan, of the new pastor of the Epworth district of the Methodist church at Newburgh yesterday.

A good drain from the public school is required to keep the cellars clear of water which accumulates there from rains, and which must produce unhealthy results.

Little boys were afloat on catamarans on the lake which formed at Dryden's corner, Edmund street, after the heavy rains yesterday. Better drainage is sorely needed in that locality.

Nine piers of the Belleville Bay bridge
are finished and nine more are completed to within a few feet of the surface and are ready for the masonry. The work is tardious and progress is necessarily slow.

Mr. Fred Smith, steward of the steamer Alexandria, who has been sailing for some time was brought over from Rochester, N.
Y., on the last trip of the steamer. He died at his home in Picton on Wednesday.
The funeral, which will be under the auspices of the Independent Foresters, will take place on Sunday.

About three-fourths of the dogs in town are still without a corporation tag. A few people have paid up, and they ask THE TRIBUNE why they should pay and others be allowed to evade the tax. We know not all that we desire is for some person with a good unerring rifle to come along and shoot all the dogs on Main street.
There are a score of them in our neighborhood of no earthly use except to deafen people with their howling and barking.

Teachers and others desirous of combining business with pleasure can do so by visiting Thousand Island Park during July and August, where the Dominion Business College, Kingston, intend giving a short, sharp course on commercial subjects.

THE SLEEP OF THE JUST.

FOR sleepless nights depending on worry, anxiety, indigestion, etc., Burdock Blood Bitters is a remarkably efficient cure.
"I have used Burdock Blood Bitters for sleepless nights and now sleep well all night."
I send it to all suffering from imperfect rest.

Geo. H. Shiel, Stony Creek, Ont.

ADVICE TO MOTHERS.—Are you disturbed
at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth? If so send at once and get a bottle of "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for Children Teething." Its value is incalculable. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it, mothers; there is no mistake about it. It cures Dysentery and Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic softens the Gums, reduces inflammation,
and gives true and energy to the whole system. "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States, and is for sale by all druggs gists throughout the world. Price twenty five cents a bottle. Be sure and ask for Mrs. Winslow's SOOTHING SYRUP.

THE POPULAR CLOTHING STORE

GENTLEMEN.—Owing to my rapidly increasing business, I have moved my stock to more commodious and better premises in Oliver's Block, Main St.
near The Tribune Office. I may say without fear of contradiction that I have the finest stock of Cloths and Tweeds for fall and winter trade ever before offered to the public in Central Ontario. In the future, as in the past, my stock is the best, my prices are the lowest, and my style is the latest and style according to the mode in the Dominion.

I am now in a position to cut and fit ladies' garments. I wish to assist the ladies of Deseronto that wish to have their dresses made as are worn in London, England.
For the accommodation of friends at a distance I have sent to the samples of cloths, and printed forms
of self-measurement, on application,
and will warrant all clothing so ordered.

Parties bringing their own material can have the same made up and trimmed at moderate cost. Cutting done at shortest notice.
Soliciting your kind patronage, I am respectfully yours,

WM. STODDART,

THE POPULAR TAILOR.

The masons are making progress with Mr. A. Rixen's new residence on Thomas street.

Mrs. Jacob Broun, Thomas street, is the owner of a geranium which has sixty-six blossoms.

The Intelligencer states that the last log of the season's drive was put through the boom last Saturday.

The large elm tree back of the Big Mill succumbed to the gale of Thursday, 21st. Another old landmark gone.

Mrs. S. Carman, of Greenpoint, one of the oldest residents of Sophiasburg, is very ill, with no hopes of her recovery.

Major Anderson, chief engineer of the Marine department, has located the lights at both ends of the Murray canal.

There are at present in the county jail, 10 prisoners, 9 men and one woman. Of the men confined there, 4 are lunatics.

By a recent enactment of the Ontario Legislative Assembly jurors in future will be allowed $2 a day instead of $1.50.

Mr. James McNamara, of Deseronto, has removed to town and now occupies Mr. A. S. Vallan's house on Thomas street.

One of the large flag stones on the crossing on Thomas street, at Prince of Wales, has been broken into many parts under the heavy traffic.

Our kind old friend, Mr. Donald Anderson, Melrose, was in town on Tuesday, looking remarkably hale and active for a man of his years.

Samson may have been the first, but he was not the last strong man reduced to abject submission by his wife depriving him more or less of his hair.

The annual fall show of the Agricultural Society of Montserrat, Herschel, Banger, Wicklow and McClure will be held at Maynooth on Wednesday, Oct. 1st.

The lady who was announced to deliver an address at the Methodist Church last Sabbath evening was prevented by illness from being present on the occasion.

The Big Mill, in all its departments, is doing splendid work this year, and Messrs. Dunn and Hoppins are correspondingly elated over the record they are making.

On Friday Revere Aylsworth ordered the removal of Nelson Baker, to the Belleville jail, the unfortunate man having developed alarming symptoms of insanity during the past few weeks.

On Saturday the Long Vacation ends and lawyers set down to business. Judges will return from summer resorts and election protests and other matters will again engross their attention.

Mr. R. H. Hubbs, barrister, has been appointed deputy judge of Prince Edward County. This will enable Judge Merrill to have a much needed vacation, rendered very necessary as a result of his long and very serious illness.

The influx of teachers during the past week has had a perceptible effect in exalting the intellectual status of the community. All report a pleasant vacation and the accumulation of a vast store of physical strength for the coming campaign.

On Friday Wesley Tompkins, conductor of No. 10 motor, was knocked off a box car, his head having come in contact with an overhead platform near the charcoal kilns. He had his face badly scratched and his elbow and thigh considerably injured.

At the last meeting of the town council Councillor Geddis gave notice that he would introduce a by-law to amend the present by-law concerning selling on streets.

The by-law will ask that five dollars instead of two dollars as at present will be required of all hawkers, peddlers, etc.

Next Wednesday is the anniversary of the death of Oliver Cromwell, one of the greatest of Englishmen, who in a practical manner showed his contempt of the doctrine of the divine right of kings. It is now considered that Cromwell was not so black as historians painted him.

Mr. David Smith returned from the Bald Mountains on Monday with 40 pairs of huckleberries and blackberries which he sold immediately for 50 cents and $1.00 per pair.

There was a sharp frost in that region on Friday night and ice formed. He returned for another load on Tuesday.

THE CASE CONSIDERED.

Judge Price has rendered judgment in the action in the division court brought by A. F. Roe, Napanee, against the Lennox and Adolphustown council, on account of reduction of his salary from $450 to $200, the result being that the county is compelled to pay the full amount with costs. The costs are already amount to about $60. From the decision it is fair to presume the council acted illegally in dismissing Mr. Roe, and they will therefore have two clerks to pay, one at $450 and the other at $200. There is also a similar suit pending by the county treasurer.

The origin of the fire is unknown, but is supposed to be incendiary. When discovered by the cheese maker, who resided near the building, it was enveloped in flames.

NORTH HASTINGS ASSAULT.

A brutal assault took place at Bird's Creek, North Hastings, on July 25th. A man named Green charged a man named McDavitt with being too intimate with his wife. McDavitt did not deny the charge, and meekly replied that he had heard Green speak that way before. This enraged Green and he fell upon McDavitt and administered a sound thrashing. He kicked him several times in the face, knocking out four teeth and otherwise disfiguring him. McDavitt had his hands arrested, fined $15 and $8.35 costs, and also ordered him to pay $75 damages to McDavitt. The defendant appealed the case on the ground that a justice of the peace had no jurisdiction to assess $75 for damages. The ground for the appeal is perfectly clear. A justice of the peace has no jurisdiction to assess a sum in excess of $20 and two months in gaol—Belleville Ontario.

THE MURRAY CANAL.

Now that one of the Richelieu steamers has passed through the Murray Canal, Belleville will be placed on the line of navigation. This should help the city. The lake route should also be popularized by the canal. The Bay of Quinte is a beautiful sheet of water and if the steamers can navigate it instead of the eastern end of Lake Ontario travel by boat will be far more attractive and pleasant than by train. The Murray Canal is a very old scheme. It was at 1790—nearly a century ago—a grant of six thousand acres of land was made on its behalf. But the land could not be turned into cash so the legislature in 1838 asked the imperial government to take the land back and devote £15,000 currency to its value. The building of the canal initiated. Sir James Carmichael Smyth, Bart, was a strong advocate of the canal. In a book upon the military outlook in Canada he said, "The Murray Canal is a very old scheme. It was at 1790—nearly a century ago—a grant of six thousand acres of land was made on its behalf. The First.

The Epworth League of the Methodist congregation will hold the first musical and literary entertainment of the season in the church on Friday evening, Sept. 5th. A good programme will be submitted. Admission 15 cents.

Deseronto Canoe Club.

A meeting of the Deseronto Canoe and Boating Club will be held at the General Office of the Rathbun Company this evening at 7:30 o'clock. As matters of importance are to be considered a large attendance of members is requested.

Three Willows for a Fishing.

Messrs. W. D. McLean, W. C. B. Rathbun and W. G. Egar went out on the yacht Ripple on Wednesday and cruised the coasting a great variety of fish, including several splendid bass. A lunch basket of magnificent proportions was empty when they reached port.

Here's Time Table.

We direct attention to the time table of the steamer Hero which will be found elsewhere in this column. It will be observed that during the week every opportunity is afforded the traveling public to reach Kingston at early hours and cheap rates. Study the table carefully.

Destructive Fire.

On Wednesday afternoon lightning struck
the barn of Mr. Herman, Adolphustown.
The barn, driving house, sheds, two large stacks of grain and all the season's crops were destroyed by fire. A man named Brookes had worked the farm on shares with Herman this season, and lost everything.
Herman had an insurance of $500 on the buildings. The loss is quite heavy.

Police Court.

Lewis A. Green, Indian, was arrested by Chief Gannon on Tuesday for drunkenness and next day Police Commissioner Green fined him $5.00 and costs, or $20.00 in all,
to be paid by Sept. 12th. Failing which he will be lodged in jail for a term. Sam Clark, Indian, for a similar offence was fined $5.00
and costs or $24.45 in all to be paid by Monday, or failing which, fifteen days in jail.

Highly Honoured.

Dr. Oronohyetzka, Supreme Chief Ranger, has appointed Bro. James Stokes, of Court Deseronto, No. 93, to the high position of Deputy Supreme Chief Ranger of the Independent Order of Foresters. With a host of friends we congratulate Bro. Stokes in his advancement to such an important office.
If unalloyed with the cause in any criticism, no member is more entitled to such a distinction.

Canoe Club Parade.

We understand that the annual parade of the Deseronto Canoe and Boating Club will be held some evening next week. It is proposed to start from the club house about 6.30 in line, and in tow of some steamer and thence proceed to "Poplar Nook." As it is an indispensable rule that all members shall be accompanied by their best girls and as music, mirth and illumination of crafts and grove will be in order, we predict an enjoyable time.

The Public School.

The public school re-opened on Monday with a very good attendance of pupils. Inspector John came down from Belleville to be present at the opening and assist in the re-organization of the departments. The teaching staff this year consists of Principal
C. A. Cole, and Misses Demarest, Pook, Robertson, Dingman, Solmes and Clark.
Miss Demarest takes the department formerly in charge of Miss Porter. Miss Pook succeeds Miss Demarest and Miss Robertson takes Miss Pook's former room. The other teachers take their old departments.
Teachers look forward to their vacation and everything points to a busy and successful fall term.

Presbyterian Picnic.

The picnic of the Presbyterian Sabbath
School came off on Friday, 22nd inst.
The weather during the day proved very unfavourable and militated against the success of the event. Nevertheless a large company sailed on the Hero to Piquette Cove, the place selected for the day's festivities. Mr.
Prinny kindly placed his house and barn at the disposal of the visitors and a pleasant time under all the circumstances, was enjoyed. A number of games and sports were participated in by the children and dinner time showed that appetites were in the normal Deseronto condition. A portion of the excursionists went on to Kingston and enjoyed their visit to the Limestone City.
All reached home safely at 9:30 p. m.

Dangerous Bridge.

The bridge over Sucker Creek on the boundary road is a topic of much conversation at present, as every day it is becoming more dilapidated and liable to a collapse.
Some stranger or unwise traveller will lose his life probably by attempting to pass over the structure after dark or even in the day time. There is no article to warn people of its dangerous condition. The heavy fall rains will soon be on and the boundary road, with the waters in the creek raised, will again be impassable for ordinary traffic.
We learn that some good Samaritan—Hungerford man probably—did post up a piece of white paper on the bridge with the warning "Beware of this Bridge" but it has been removed and people are left to their fate.

Midland District Millers' Convention.

Mr. R. Rayburn, representing the Deseronto Flour Mills, attended a meeting of the Midland District Millers' Association at Peterboro on Friday, 22nd inst. There was a good attendance of members. The general object of the meeting was to get an expression of opinion as to securing for grinding in transit railway rates by which the millers would have the same freight privileges as grain dealers to deal with the Dominion Association to deal with the subject in the light of the feeling of the local associations. The meeting decided to retain the use of the grain trade. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, J. H. McLean, Peterboro; Vice-president, C. Smith, Campbellford; secretary, J. McLean, Lakeside.

Laid at Rest.

On Friday last week Mr. Frederick Smith, of Pictou, died at the age of thirty years. Mr. Smith had, for a number of years, been steward on the "Alexandria,"
and was well known to a host of friends among the travelling public who will be grieved to learn of his death. The funeral took place from his mother's residence at Pictou on Sunday. Rev. Mr. Colquhoun conducted the services. Court Pictou, No.
177, L. O. P., of which the deceased was a member, was in attendance in a body and buried the brother with the full honors of the order. Brothers H. M. Love, C. D. H.
C. E. K. and J. by James Stokes, D. S. C. R. and B. Dowley, Chap., read the Foresters' burial service. The following members of the Court acted as pall-bearers:
Wm. Shilton, Wm. Owens, J. McMillan,
L. McCaw, M. Spafford and J. Roblin.
Members of both the local branches united and headed the procession of Foresters who numbered over eighty. Bro. James Stokes, Capt. Christie, John Anderson and A. L.
Chandler, messes of Court Deseronto, No.
93, attended the funeral.

Kingston Business College.

Kingston Business College re-opens on Sept. 1st, with a full staff of teachers. This school has earned the reputation of thorough and practical work.

The Last.

The stmr. Ella Ross carries her last Friday excursion from Pictou to Belleville today. To-morrow she carries her last Saturday excursion from Belleville to Pictou for this season.

Social.

A social in connection with the Presbyterian Sunday School will be held at the Hotel de Ville, F. H. Sims, Dundas street, on Thursday evening Sept. 4th. Admission, two for twenty-five cents.

Hope So.

The Napane Beaver thinks it is the intention of the Rathbun Company, as soon as the G. T. R. double track is completed, to establish through connection and train service between Deseronto and the line of the K. N. & W. Ry. The coaches, locomotives, etc., are now being marked, it is supposed,
with that purpose in view.

Not Guilty.

George Casey, of Deseronto, was arrested in Belleville last week charged with the larceny of $35 from Gilbert Thresher. He appeared in court and it was proved that Thresher was drinking and the magistrate said he was convinced that the accused did not take the money and he therefore discharged him.

Freak of Nature.

A freak of nature was shown in the village of Marmora last Monday, in a chicken recently hatched out by a hen belonging to Mr. John Donnan who lives about six miles north of the village. It has four legs, four wings, two tails and one head. It was alive but feeble at the time of its capture from the shell, and shortly afterwards died.

Grand Union Picnic.

The Roman Catholic congregation of Catharville and neighbors held a grand union picnic at Varty Lake on Saturday, August 30th. There will be a long programme of athletic sports for which liberal prizes will be awarded. A quadrille band will furnish music all day long. Boats on the lake free for all and meals and refreshments at half price on the grounds. The K.
N. & W. R. will run special trains at reduced rates. This picnic will afford an excellent day's outing for pleasure seekers.

The Markets.

There have been large markets this week and farmers found a good demand for all their products of the farm and garden.
Butter was scarce and sold at 25 cents in the roll and 20 cents packed. Potatoes were also scarce and brought 75 cents. Apples were plentiful and sold from 50 to 60 cents;
pears 75 cents per bushel; plums 40 to 50 cents per bushel. Onions sold for $1.00 per bag. Eggs 12 to 14 cents. Tomatoes 20 cents per peck; cucumbers 3 cents, beets 4 & 5 cents, corn 6 to 8 cents a dozen. Chickens 40 to 60 cents.

Better Mail Service.

The Pictou Times urges the propriety of forwarding the western mail from Toronto via Deseronto. It very properly states that the mail might be despatched from Deseronto by the steamer immediately after the arrival of the train from the west, and thus the mail would be received at Pictou more than an hour sooner than by the present C. O. R. route. This would prove a great benefit to business men. This is a reasonable proposition but, unfortunately,
it takes years to drive any reasonable suggestion into the departmental officers who direct affairs in this part of the province.

To California Free.

We see by the ever popular Fireside
Weekly that they are offering to subscribers such tremendous prizes as a Free trip to California and return, first-class; a lady's elegant seal mantle, $200; handsome Sheldahl pony, silver tea set, lady's gold watch, china tea set, mantle clock, silver ware, etc. etc. etc. and many more. These are prizes for the persons sending in the greatest number of words constructed from the letters contained in the Fireside Weekly. Send 5 one-cent stamps to 9 Adelaide St. West, Toronto, for sample copy and premium schedule with list of prizes and conditions of contest, and make a try for a prize. Any one can win.

STABBING AFFRAY IN THE PENITENTIARY.

KINGSTON, Aug. 27.—This morning a collusion between two convicts occurred in the penitentiary, one stabbing another twice with a pair of scissors. The altercation commenced while the men were leaving their cells. The victim was stabbed in the shoulder and abdomen, but not seriously.
Dr. Lavell was called and the wounded man immediately after the stabbing, and had him cared for. Hollingsworth, of Prescott, formerly a mail carrier, was the man stabbed,
and his assailant was Longford, of Toronto.
Hollingsworth accused Longford of a nameless offence. The shears were carried from Dr. Lavell's room in which Longford works.
When Hollingsworth was stabbed, he fell back, crying out that he was being murdered.
The wound in the abdomen is the most painful. Longford is a man of vicious disposition. He is in his cell awaiting the enquiry.

For 25 cents you can send
The Tribune to a friend in Canada or the United States for the balance of the year.
